

Ford Puts Emphasis On Federal Budget Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has signaled his readiness to accept congressional cuts in the defense budget while his administration seeks to prune spending by other agencies in the effort to curb inflation.

Ford gave wage earners and bureaucrats the same advice for dealing with the double-digit inflation: tighten your belts, "watch every penny."

Administration aides said that as part of that belt-tightening process, the President would not resist defense spending cuts, which originally had drawn White House criticism.

At his first presidential news conference, Ford re-emphasized the drive to economize as his major inflation-fighting weapon, and underscored his opposition to wage and price controls.

"... Wage and price controls are out, period," the President said.

The nationally broadcast and televised news conference Wednesday was dominated by questions about inflation and about the possible prosecution of Richard M. Nixon in the Watergate case.

Ford said he subscribes to what he described as the general American view that Nixon should not face further action. But he said it would be unwise and untimely for him to make any commitment now on what he will do if the former president is indicted.

He also said he will make the final decision, and does not rule out the possibility of an eventual presidential pardon should Nixon be prosecuted. "It is an option and a proper option for any president," he said.

The President said that to deal with inflation, the administration already has announced plans for a $5.5-billion budget cut during the year that ends next June 30.

Ford said that will ease the strain on the money markets, and in addition "I think it will convince people who might have some doubts that we mean business."

In addition, the administration is collecting ideas from labor, management, agriculture and other areas to prepare for his economic summit conference Sept. 27 and 28, he said.

The approach he spurned was wage and price controls. Ford said he had discussed it with congressional leaders of both parties, that labor and management oppose it, and that it won't happen.

Some Democrats have complained that Ford's budget cutting plans would bear down on domestic social programs. But Ford said he wouldn't spare the Pentagon.

"No budget for any department is sacrosanct, and that includes the defense budget," he said. Ford said he will insist that the nation remain strong militarily.

"But if there is any fat in the defense budget, it ought to be cut out by Congress or eliminated by the secretary of defense," he said. "In the meantime, all other departments must be scrutinized carefully so that they don't have any fat and marginal programs are eliminated."

The administration is probing virtually every part of the budget for fat, economic coordinator Kenneth Rush said in an interview.

And Roy L. Ash, director of the Office of Management and Budget, has been trying to hammer out a bipartisan approach to budget cutting.

This would involve agreements in advance between congressional leaders and the White House on where cuts can be made in programs.

Ford's statements about the economy brought a mixed reaction from members of Congress.

Chairman Wilbur Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee said he agreed with the President that wage and price controls cannot be imposed now. But Mills said it is possible they will be needed in the future. House Banking Committee Chairman Wright Patman said he didn't share Ford's confidence that voluntary wage and price guidelines would tame inflation, but was willing to give it a try.

On other issues, Ford said:

—Administration economic advisers have suggested that if the economy worsens the government ought to provide more public service jobs. "We will approach this problem with compassion and action where there is a need for it," Ford said.

—His nomination of Nelson A. Rockefeller to be vice president and his statement on amnesty for Vietnam war resisters are not "views that fall in the political spectrum right or left," Ford said. "I don't think I have deviated from my basic philosophy nor have I deviated from what I think is the right action."

—"I will probably be a candidate in 1976." The President called himself and Rockefeller a good team, "but of course the final judgment in this matter will be that of the delegates to the national convention."

—Rockefeller will take over Ford's responsibility of heading the subcommittee of the Domestic Council on privacy and will make a significant contribution to foreign policy formulation.

—A new attitude from Cuba toward the United States and its Latin neighbors could lead to U.S. re-evaluation of its policy. "But before we made any change, we would certainly act in concert with the other members of the Organization of American States," Ford said.

—It is necessary to accelerate Project Independence, the plan originated by Nixon to make the United States independent from imported oil. Ford urged more searching for oil and gas and said the government will expedite the licensing of new nuclear reactors and accelerate research and development in all fields of energy.

Explosion Rips Chattanooga, 13 Persons Injured

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Half a downtown block was left in flaming rubble today after an explosion ripped through a ghetto area — leveling two night spots and a church — and injuring at least 13 persons.

"I'm sure that it was not a bomb, but I don't know just exactly what caused it," Fire Chief Harry Jett said of the blast.

Police Chief Jerry Pitts said, "There were no deaths."

The early morning blast was heard four miles away.

A customer at a nearby restaurant said the two night spots leveled by the blast were open for business at the time.

Erlanger Hospital said it had given 13 persons emergency treatment, releasing all but one.

"There was fire everywhere," said Patrolman Don Weller, one of the first at the scene. "The buildings were just leveled."

Father-In-Law Of Mexican President Held By Guerillas

GUADALAJARA, Mexico (AP) — Police and troops searched through Guadalajara and Jalisco state today for the 83-year-old father-in-law of Mexico's president and the guerrillas who kidnaped him.

Officials would not comment on a report that the kidnapers demanded $1.6 million and the release of "political prisoners" in exchange for white-haired Jose Guadalupe Zuno Hernandez.

The kidnaping on a busy street in the middle of the nation's second largest city was the most daring exploit in a long string of guerrilla activities in Mexico in the past two years.

It put President Luis Echeverria in a tough spot since he has repeatedly said in the past year that the government would not negotiate with kidnapers. The guerrillas have killed several persons when their ransom demands were not met.

The police and the army set up roadblocks at major junctions and on the highways leading out of Guadalajara after Zuno was seized at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at one of the city's busiest intersections, a few blocks from the Jalisco state government headquarters.

Witnesses said four men armed with pistols and submachine guns pulled the old man and his chauffeur from their car, beat the chauffeur to the ground, bundled Zuno into another car and sped away, spraying the area with tear gas.

One report said notes left in various parts of the city identified the kidnapers as members of the People's Armed Revolutionary Front, which kidnaped U.S. Consul-General Terrance G. Leonhardy last year. The state government denied this, but the denial was suspect since state officials issued a false denial of a similar report

Urge Administrators Become Teachers

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Hamilton School Board President Carl Morgenstern has renewed his proposal to put the district's administrators into classrooms.

Morgenstern proposed at a board meeting this week that administrators be assigned to classrooms to counter a cut of 46 teachers over the last two years. He made a similar proposal last year, but the board took no action.

EPA To Ask $350 Billion For U.S. Water Cleanup

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The chief counsel of the Senate Committee on Public Works said Wednesday the federal Environmental Protection Agency will ask Congress for $350 billion to enable states to comply with 1972 Federal Water Pollution Control act amendments.

Barry Meyers, calling the cost figure one of the best kept secrets in Washington, addressed 180 water experts attending the Interstate Conference on the Environment.

The deadline for cities to comply with the 1972 water pollution act is June 30, 1977. The federal government, in order to aid local governments in meeting the deadline would have to spend over $350 million per day to complete required wastewater and storm runoff facilities.

"The '77 deadline will not be met," said James L. Agee, assistant administrator of the U.S. EPA Office of Water and Hazardous Materials, another speaker at the conference.

Agee refused to confirm the $350 billion figure, but did say Congress will be given a large amount.

Agee said William D. Ruckelshaus, former EPA administrator, testified before the 1972 legislation was enacted that the deadline could not be met.

Rain Curbs State Fair Attendance

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Singer Liza Minnelli gave two performances before a packed grandstand Wednesday despite dismal weather, but the rain otherwise held down attendance at the Ohio State Fair.

Fair officials said Wednesday's attendance was 125,840, considerably less than the 222,092 for the same day last year. That put this year's total so far at 1,327,478, or about 42,000 behind the 1973 exposition after seven days.

Miss Minnelli told her audiences she was "honored" that they braved the drizzle and mud. "You're terrific," she said. "I can't thank you enough for coming out in this weather."

The rain washed out Wednesday's card of harness racing and the seventh annual balloon race.

The harness racing was postponed until today, with Wednesday's feature, the $27,500 Director of Agriculture Pace, to be cofeatured with the $24,500 Governor's Trot.

The balloon race, which had been postponed from Tuesday because of poor weather, was canceled, with the $3,500 prize money split among the seven contestants.

Fair officials were hoping for improved weather today, but the National Weather Service said more rain was likely and possibly could continue into Friday.

Dead Body Call Brings Surprise

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — It was an episode out of the movies for Cleveland policemen investigating a report of a dead body.

Four homicide detectives and six patrolmen were sent to investigate a train dispatcher's report of a dead body lying on a flatcar Tuesday.

"A lieutenant who climbed aboard the flatcar turned white as a ghost when the man's head rose and the 'corpse' asked, 'where am I?'" a detective said.

The man, very much alive, had been drinking in Erie, Pa., and had jumped on the flatcar to sleep it off, police said.

Dwight Metzler, deputy commissioner of the New York Department of Environmental Conservation, said the $350 billion is 25 times greater than the estimate for compliance made two years ago.

Of the $18 billion Congress appropriated in the years 1973-75 for wastewater construction, only $9 billion was allocated with much less filtering down to local programs.

Agee said in fiscal 1975, about $3 billion will be obligated. "While it looks like we are not spending money very fast," he said, "when we obligated $1.4 billion in '74, it initiated $4 billion in federal spending."

Agee said the EPA is asking for an extension to the 1977 deadline for compliance of municipalities, but a similar deadline rollback for best practicable technology application by industry is not going to be recommended.

"There's a great deal of sympathy in both houses and the administration for extending the municipal compliance deadline," Agee said.

In a morning session Wednesday, Warren Fairchild, director of the U.S. Water Resources Council, discussed the advice the council gave the Ford administration on how water quality standards would affect the country's energy needs.

Rain Too Little, Too Late

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer
Too little, too late.

That's the consensus about the recent rains that fell in the Midwest.

The experts say the moisture may help the soybean crop, but it's too late to do much about corn. Soybean and corn are two major grains used to feed dairy cows, chickens and beef cattle. If the price of feed goes up, so does the price of milk, poultry and meat.

No one is really sure exactly how much supermarket prices will rise, or when the boost will hit. The government already has upped its estimate of 1974 price increases, saying that at the end of this year, food will cost about 15 per cent more than it did in 1973. Earlier, the officials estimated a 12 per cent jump this year.

Americans may get a helping hand from Europe.

Petrus Lardinois, agriculture commissioner of the European Common Market, announced on Wednesday that the market will reduce purchases of U.S. corn and other feed grains by about 10 per cent in the coming year, leaving a greater supply for Americans.

"We think that when you have to cut back in your own consumption, especially of corn, that it is normal that we try also to do in our agricultural policy about the same," said Lardinois, who was in Washington, D.C., at the invitation of Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz.

The next government crop report isn't due until Sept. 11. The last report, issued on Aug. 12, said that the corn crop would be about 4.97 billion bushels, 12 per cent below last year's harvest.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture said Monday that a special midmonth review of the situation showed that rain during the first half of August "did not promote significant gains in corn production although soybeans could benefit from the moisture."

State and regional officials contacted in an Associated Press survey agreed, adding that the rain might help prepare the soil for fall wheat planting.

A spokesman for the Missouri Department of Agriculture said farmers in 20 counties have applied for low-cost federal loans because of damage to crops.

Neal Gunkel, assistant to the Illinois agriculture director, said rains have helped the soybeans — which are planted and harvested later than corn. But he predicted that the yield would be 15 per cent less than last year.

Reports from Iowa, the nation's top corn producer, showed earlier that more than half the crop was destroyed in some areas and officials said the rain came too late to help farmers recover.

Raymond Hancock of the Kansas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said the rain would help the 1975 wheat crop which will be planted this fall and needs soil moisture to enable the seeds to germinate and grow through the winter months.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market faltered again today, continuing its severe slide of the past three weeks.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 4.53 at 662.08, and losers predominated over gainers by 5-to-2 in light trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts said frustration over inflation and concern about prospects for the economy in general continued to grip the market, leaving investors with little expectation of any significant technical rebound before the approaching three-day Labor Day weekend.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index was down .09 at 69.81.

The NYSE's composite index of all its listed common stocks was down .14 at 36.92.

Ford Proves Self Before Cameras

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford smiles easily, speaks softly and talks with his hands.

Mostly, that's what Americans learned from watching Ford's television-radio news conference Wednesday.

The big news was that Ford had no big news to announce. For the first time in more than half-a-dozen years, Americans apparently have a President who is willing to hold news conferences for the simple sake of opening himself up for questions on topics of current interest.

That was the original purpose of presidential news conferences — but one never accepted as valid by Richard M. Nixon.

Nixon's press secretary, Ronald L. Ziegler, often said his boss viewed question and answer meetings with newsmen as opportunities to communicate what he had on his mind. Ziegler repeatedly rejected suggestions that his boss should be available for questioning regularly, even when he had nothing special to say.

Ford's press secretary, Jerald F.

terHorst, says he expects Ford to hold news conferences about twice a month, but not necessarily before live cameras and microphones.

The contrast between Ford's news conference debut and similar appearances by Nixon was pronounced, especially considering the shared setting of the White House East Room.

Nixon used to stand before a blue velvet drape hung from iron pipes. So far as a TV viewer could see, he might have been standing anywhere.

Ford stood before an open door that gave TV watchers a glimpse down the carpeted marble hallway leading from the East Room to the state dining room.

Ford's demeanor under hot TV lights also offered a contrast with his resigned predecessor. Nixon wore make-up and perspired freely. Ford didn't even powder his bald spots and, if he was a bit tense at the outset, he looked cool throughout.

Ford's voice was lowered from the start — even a bit monotonously so and his exchanges with reporters were not only civil but friendly.

Predigested Food Battles Disease

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Researchers at the Children's Hospital Medical Center say a special predigested food formula they developed has helped extend the lives of victims of cystic fibrosis, the leading cause of death in young children.

But the program may be halted because of prohibitive costs, which has until now been provided to the patients free.

Over the past three years, the formula has been tested on 30 children suffering from CF, aged one month to 19 years. In patients who previously had been extremely underweight due to the disease, many showed a significant weight gain.

Dr. Robert Ingberg, assistant director of the CF clinic at the hospital, said some of the patients showed as much as a 10-pound weight gain. "One little boy gained six pounds in less than five months once he was put on the formula," Dr. Ingberg said. "Before that he gained only one or two pounds in a year."

Children's Hospital is one of two places in the world to use the formula. The other is in Hacclesfield, England.

It is the only clinic among the 100 CF hospitals in the United States to use it.

Cystic fibrosis is a genetic disease affecting the mucous glands in the pancreas and lungs. The mucous clogs the breathing passages and prohibits natural enzymes from digesting food.

The average lifespan of CF patients, Dr. Ingberg said, has been extended from months to the late teens. He noted the special food is significant in treatment of the disease, but that no cure is in sight.

The food has been provided without charge to the patients because the hospital received the raw material free from the Hilner Scientifica and Medical Research Co. of Liverpool, England. But the company can no longer donate the materials because of rising costs.

Mrs. Nelanie Hunt, a nutritionist at Children's hospital said the cost for the food would be high and the hospital is trying to find a way to finance the program.

"We would like to be able to continue the experimental use of this food because it really seems to benefit the children," she said.

Franciscan Meals Volunteers Hold Get Acquainted Meeting

The volunteers on the Franciscan Community Meals program enjoyed a coffee hour in the Trinity Lutheran Church lounge, Wednesday.

The purpose of the meeting was to get everyone acquainted with the others working on the program, discuss problems and offer ideas and suggestions. Each one was given a schedule of the regular drivers, plus an emergency driver list to enable each one to obtain a substitute when necessary without calling the coordinator, Mrs. Carroll, so often.

Rhodes Urges School Cash

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (AP)—Republican gubernatorial candidate James A. Rhodes called Wednesday for an immediate $30 per-pupil increase in school subsidies to avert a "deepening financial crisis" facing school districts.

"The solution to the problem is building in the state treasury," Rhodes argued, saying a $104 million surplus is anticipated in the general fund by June 30.

The former governor told a Republican gathering that 83 school districts already have requested that real estate tax increase proposals be placed on the November ballot to provide funds to provide adequate teacher salaries.

"The pressure should be removed from property taxes by the allocation of the income tax money the schools were promised in return for supporting the tax referendum," Rhodes said.

Mrs. Pauline Kirkpatrick was present to administer the Tine tests recommended for food handlers, to those who had not already had it. This is not an absolute requirement but is highly recommended.

Mrs. Sally Harden, chairman of the Board, and Mrs. Lorene Carroll welcomed the following volunteers: Bea Owens, Lucille Scott, Randolph Wolfe, Margaret England, Barbara Brandon, Barbara Robinson, Ann Morehart, Henrietta Stocklen, Mary Simkins, Paul Gentzel, Frances Pritt, Almada Hill, Madeline Sanders, Ruth Griest, Lu Stout, Arietta McNeal, Mary Jane Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Thornton, Edith Grigg, Kathy Stroh, Joyce Eveland, Mrs. Brackee, Pauline Kirkpatrick and Twyla Lorentz.

Anyone wishing to be a volunteer is urged to call either Mrs. Carroll at 474-4647 or Twyla Lorentz at 474-4916. Drivers work only about once every two weeks, from about 11:30 a.m. until 1 p.m. Deliveries are made by two people on each route, one to do the driving and the other to carry the food in to the client. Training will be given by Mrs. Harden. At present, three routes are in operation, one from each of our three nursing homes, Pickaway Manor, Brown Memorial and Circleville Manor.

The service provides a hot noon meal to shutins, furnishing a balanced diet at a nominal cost. Those needing the service call 474-4647.

Clouds And Rain Cover Nation

By The Associated Press

Clouds and rain stretched from central Texas to southern New England today and clouds smeared most of the rest of the nation.

Flash-flood watches remained in effect for parts of Ohio, West Virginia and south-central Texas.

Nearly the entire Pacific Coast was blanketed with fog, but skies were generally clear in the Southwest.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 42 at Dickinson, N.D., to 87 at Yuma, Ariz.

Ask Return Of Greeks To Homes

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Greek Cypriot government wants the Security Council to demand that Turkey let the Greek Cypriots driven from their homes by the invasion of Cyprus return and live under the protection of United Nations troops.

The plea was to be made to the council this afternoon at a meeting called at the request of the Greek Cypriots to "consider the grave situation in Cyprus, including the refugee problem." The Greek Cypriots claim that 200,000 of their people are refugees from the nearly 40 per cent of the island that the Turkish invasion force has occupied.

Cypriot Ambassador Zenon Rossides also was going to tell the council that his government would let the U. N. peacekeeping force protect Turkish Cypriots in the Greek area if the Turks would let the U.N. troops protect Greeks in the Turkish area.

The council may also discuss the Soviet proposal for an international conference on Cyprus attended by the 15 council members plus Greece, Turkey and representatives of the two Cypriot communities.

Some council delegates said privately that the proposal could not get the nine council votes needed to endorse it, and they doubted that the Russians would submit a resolution to that effect.

Greece and the Greek Cypriots have embraced the proposal, but Turkey rejected it and demanded a renewal of the negotiations between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots and Turkey, Greece and Britain, the signers of the 1959 independence treaty for Cyprus.

Nixon Option Held By Ford

WASHINGTON (AP) — Special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski has drawn even tighter the curtain of silence surrounding his deliberations on the case of Richard M. Nixon. While leaving the next move to Jaworski, President Ford has said he will render the final judgment in any prosecution of his predecessor.

In the aftermath of Ford's statements at a news conference Wednesday, Jaworski and his staff not only declined comment but even refused to entertain questions.

Ford told his news conference he subscribes to the view of those who hold that Nixon should be spared from prosecution in the Watergate case that forced him from office.

Despite that, the President said Jaworski "has an obligation to take whatever action he sees fit ... and that should include any and all individuals."

But Ford made it clear that he, as President, would make the final judgment in the case.

"I am the final authority," he said. Asked if he would consider a pardon for Nixon if legal action were taken against the former president, Ford replied:

"Of course, I make the final decision. Until it gets to me, I make no commitment one way or the other. But I do have the right as President of the United States to make that decision."

The matter of Nixon's status as a potential defendant in the Watergate case was the opening question in Ford's first news conference as President.

Ford clearly expected it. He had in hand for quotation his statement when he took office Aug. 9 that he hoped "our former president, who brought peace to millions, will find it for himself."

Rather than saying directly that he thought Nixon should be spared from prosecution, Ford chose to state his agreement with others who already had expressed that view, which he described as "the general view and the point of view of the American people."

Russia Detonates Nuclear Charge

UPPSALA, Sweden (AP) — A powerful nuclear charge was blasted underground today in the Soviet Novaya Zemlya area, Prof. Marcus Baath, head of the Uppsala Seismological Institution, reported.

The explosion was measured at 6.6 on the Richter scale, Baath said. An earthquake with a 7 reading would be a major one.

The explosion was probably the first multimegaton blast since the Soviets and the United States agreed in July to a ban prohibiting underground explosions above a 150-kiloton level.

Computers Eye Medicaid Cheats

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio is turning its computers loose to thwart errors and cheating on Medicaid payments.

The Department of Public Welfare is sending computer reports to each receiver of health services in Ohio to verify that each received the service the state has been billed for.

"The state is not going to pay until it is satisfied all the bills are correct," said David Pildas, a department spokesman.

"As with anything there will be some errors and some instances of improper charges."

Even without the computer cracking down, state officials have turned up sizeable errors and cheating, both by health care providers and by patients.

An exact accounting of over-payments has not been compiled, a spokesman in the state auditor's office reported.

A welfare official said an unofficial total would be $500,000 a year.

He remembered that a list of 126 suppliers of health services who had been found to have made improper charges had been referred to medical authorities.

"You know patients who want a certain drug may go from one doctor to another getting it," he said. They have a habit, that's what it amounts to.

"With the computer we can keep track of things like that."

The computer notice sent recipients of health care lists providers such as doctors, druggists, hospitals or dentists, the date the service was provided, a description of the service and the amount paid, Charles Bates, state welfare director, said.

A card has been mailed also explaining the procedure and asking recipients to report to their county caseworker if they detect errors.

The state welfare department receives about one million invoices a month from the state's 28,000 health care providers and expects to mail out about 800,000 computer double-checks monthly, Pildas said.

The state paid out $25 million for health care claims in July, up sharply from July, 1973.

The federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare pays 75 per cent of the cost and the state 25 per cent.

Ohio is the first state to adopt the full computer system demanded by HEW.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Broken Beak Breaks Bank

DEAR ABBY: We drove 500 miles to attend the wedding of a relative. Our son was to be in the bridal party. The wedding was to take place at 4 P.M. on Saturday. On the Friday night before the wedding, the bride and groom got into a fight and the groom broke the bride's nose so the wedding was cancelled.

What do we do with the wedding gift we were going to take to the church? Who pays for the tuxedo our son rented for the occasion and never got to wear? And how about the motel bill?

I think the bride's parents who invited us here for nothing should help us out. Should we ask them to?

STUCK IN ILLINOIS

DEAR STUCK: That's what you are. Stuck. Stuck for the wedding gift-unless you can return it. You're stuck for sure for your son's rented tuxedo, and you're stuck for the motel bill.

And no, don't ask the bride's parents to help out. They've got enough trouble trying to comfort a bride with a broken nose.

DEAR ABBY: My husband died very suddenly not long ago. It was a terrible shock as he had been in the best of health and had no warning whatsoever. We had 43 good years together, which is more than many couples have, but somehow, I still feel cheated.

I was in such a state of shock when this happened that my eldest daughter took me to her home where I stayed for three weeks. When I returned to my own home I was stunned to find that every trace of my beloved husband had been removed. Not one thing belonging to him remained!

My two daughters and one son (all married) took it upon themselves to go through my house and dispose of all their father's clothes.

I broke right down and wept. They tried to explain that they thought they had done me a big favor.

Abby, wasn't it MY right to dispose of my late husband's things in my own good time? Perhaps I wanted some memories of him around.

It's too late in my case, but please print this for others who may presume to do what my children did.

CRUSHED

DEAR CRUSHED: Please consider the motivation. They undoubtedly wanted to spare you what they thought would be an agonizing task. But you make a good point. Perhaps they should have asked.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 21-year-old male college student. I am being married in the near future. Both of us would like to have a big wedding and invite our many friends, but the cost would empty her parents' pocketbook.

My fiancée and I feel that the tradition that says her parents must foot the bill for the wedding is entirely outmoded, but I'm afraid her folks would feel hurt if my parents offered to chip in.

As it stands now, my future in-laws feel a bit inadequate alongside my well-to-do family.

If you can come up with a solution it would be a most welcome early wedding gift.

DOOMED GROOM

DEAR DOOMED: Why not break with tradition in the interest of common sense? Perhaps your future in-law wouldn't be as "hurt" as you think if your parents chipped in for the kind of wedding you want. Ask them. If they refuse, go the traditional route, and after your return from your honeymoon, your parents can throw a party for you and all your friends.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MARK: Lose her. She has a "gelt" complex.

Cuban Embargo May Be Lifted With U.S. Nod

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ford administration is reassessing the long-standing U.S. policy of support for the hemispheric embargo of Cuba, according to diplomatic informants.

The policy reappraisal comes in the face of mounting hemispheric pressure for an end to the diplomatic and economic sanctions imposed against Cuba 10 years ago by the Organization of American States. Presently, seven of the 23 OAS member nations have relations with Cuba in violation of the sanctions.

Costa Rican Foreign Minister Gonzalo Fazio said on Tuesday there are more than enough OAS votes for lifting the embargo and he predicted its end within two months.

Sources said, however, that American acquiescence on an end to the embargo would not necessarily be a prelude to a normalization of U.S. relations with Cuba.

Cuban support for revolution in Latin America — long an irritant to Washington — has diminished considerably. But Cuba is still a force for fomenting anti-American sentiment in Latin America, a strategy that may be accelerated as Cuba secures additional diplomatic footholds in the hemisphere.

Cuba also is one example of the limitations of the detente policy pursued by the United States and the Soviet Union.

Officials note that detente has not produced a moratorium on Soviet efforts for "anti-imperialist upheavals" in Latin America and other Third World areas. In the words of one Moscow theoretician, Cuba is an important ingredient in the "development of the revolutionary process in Latin America."

Accordingly, diplomatic observers here believe a protracted thaw process will be required before there can be serious talk of an exchange of ambassadors with Cuba, even after the OAS embargo is lifted.

Seek Flu Vaccine Stolen From Office

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Police are still looking for 75 vials of flu vaccine, 100 vials of tetanus vaccine and an unknown quantity of hyperdermic needles stolen from a doctor's office Wednesday.

Sgt. Marcellus Abel said the vaccine was stolen by burglars who apparently mistook it for drugs. He said the vaccine could be infectious and could cause death if taken incorrectly.

Unheard Record

Some members of Congress love to attribute remarks to themselves in the Congressional Record which they never made. By mutual consent, all they need to do is ask the presiding officer for permission to "extend" their remarks and they can hand over to the Record's printers anything they wish.

That is how it is that salutations to the folks back home, observations about the Washington climate, commercials for home-town products and even speeches made years ago turn up in the Record. Many thousands of dollars are spent on this privilege, which until now no one bothered to police.

As a result of the activities of an anonymous prankster, all that may change. Fictitious remarks appearing in the Record and attributed to lawmakers who were as surprised as anyone to see what they were supposed to have said brought a crack-down by the Speaker of the House.

The Record is not going to become an honest record of the day's happenings on the floor of the House and Senate. But everything that goes into the Record henceforth must be signed by the member in whose name it is submitted.

Unless, of course, the anonymous prankster also is a good forger.

Rocky's Full Of Nelson

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — President Gerald Ford picked the right man to halt the inflation when he assigned the task to Vice President Nelson Rockefeller. Rocky approaches the homeric job with impressive credentials. During his last campaign for governor of New York, he gave evidence that he could cut expenses to the bone, even if inadvertently.

Seems he was in Washington on business one day and, as his personal jet was preparing to return him to Albany, he remembered he had promised to call Sen. Jack Javits to say hello.

"Hold the plane," he ordered. "I've got to make a phone call."

"I'll do it for you, Governor," an aide volunteered.

"Fine," Rocky said. "Call Jack Javits and tell him I'll call him when I get home."

The aide started up the aisle for the steps of the plane. "Just a moment," Rocky said, rummaging through his change pocket. "I want to pay for the call."

"Aw, c'mon, Governor, I'll take care of it," the aide laughed and sped off. He returned in a minute or two, the job done.

"I insist on paying for that phone call," Rocky said as the plane moved away from its gate.

"Please, Governor . . . really."

"No, I won't hear of it," the multimillionaire public servant insisted. He fished again in his pocket, said "There!" and handed his aide a nickel.

A majority of the players in the U.S. Open Tennis Championships will wear shirts, blouses and dresses adorned with an emblem of an angry little alligator.

What's an alligator got to do with the doings at Forest Hills?

Glad you asked that. Seems that back in 1950, Billy Talbert, probably the most likeable player tournament tennis ever produced, returned from a trip to Paris bearing what was called a "Lacoste chemise." It was a light, short-sleeved pullover shirt not unlike all the others of the type except that a tiny alligator had been stitched just below the left shoulder in green and red thread. Fierce-looking little fellow.

Billy showed the shirt to his friend Vincent de Paul Draddy, president of David Crystal, Inc., the oldest apparel firm in New York's teeming garment district. As a favor to Talbert, Draddy "ran up" a couple dozen copies of the shirt, which had been long associated with the great French Davis Cup star of the 1920s, Rene Lacoste.

Talbert distributed Draddy's gift among some fellow tennis and golfing friends, including the Duke of Windsor.

That's how Izod the Alligator was launched in the New World. All but countless millions have been sold since then, all over the world. In almost the quarter century of its life, the alligator has outlasted such virulent come-and-go fads as Nehru jackets, bobbysox, zoot suits, reet pleats, mini-maxi-midi, spike heels, inch-wide neckties, seven-inch ties, and bow ties that light up and spell Mother.

Draddy's quite a guy. His office and home in Westchester are heavy with framed citations of his civic leadership and philanthropies, and there are cases filled with prizes for his amateur sports achievements. He was football captain at Manhattan College, is chairman of the National Football Foundation's Hall of Fame, a sponsor of the $250,000 Westchester Classic which was played last weekend at his home course, plays golf close enough to scratch to appear regularly in the Bing Crosby Pro-Am, and he is the only Irish multimillionaire working on Seventh Avenue.

Vin has a slogan: "Cast your bread on the waters and it comes back buttered toast."

With alligator jam.

Air Force chum writes:

"The Evel Knievel caper will turn out to be the biggest hoax since Clifford Irving's book on Howard Hughes. That motorcycle of his can't leap across the Sanke River canyon. If it does, by some freak, Knievel won't be able to land it on the other side. It doesn't have a stabilizer to its name.

"What seems likely is that he'll bail out when he sees he can't make it across, and make a nice soft landing in the river below. The Air Force has perfected a new ejection seat so powerful that it will save a pilot's life if his plane catches fire while still on the run-way. Knievel's parachute will be something like that. Just about fool-proof. Knievel will be paid $6,000,000. Joe Kittinger, our guy who bailed out of a balloon at 102,800 feet, fell free for four and a half long minutes, popped his chute open at 17,500 feet and used up a total of 13 minutes and 8 seconds from bail-out to ground, would make Knievel's jump for $60."

Business World

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — In a series of late September conferences, President Ford will seek the anti-inflation views of the disparate elements that make up the economy, the view of "everyone in the country, every part of America."

And in doing so he is bound to find that those views are not in such full agreement with existing policies, mainly those of the highly independent Federal Reserve Board, as was suggested by the previous administration.

The fact is that not all America is united behind Arthur F. Burns, the Fed chairman, who steadfastly — and some say, courageously — adheres to a relatively tight money policy as a deterrent to inflation.

The President will hear highly respected individuals ask in all innocence: How is it that high interest rates have failed to restrain prices, despite the almost theological belief that they do?

And furthermore, why has the nation's housing been sacrificed on that altar? Why have the equity markets been ripped apart for that belief? Why has business been denied capital and forced to borrow from banks?

Even if the answers aren't forthcoming, the President likely will have scored a political if not economic victory because he permitted the previously smothered suggestions, opinions, frustrations of so many to be aired.

The goals of the summit conference scheduled for Sept. 27-28 illustrates the failure of past attempts. It reduces the problem of inflation to the essential considerations:

—To "clarify" the present economic condition of the nation, to identify the causes of inflation, to consider "new and realistic" inflation restraints, to define "hardship areas" needing quick attention, and to develop a consensus.

If these are the questions to be answered, then it is obvious that those now in power feel that little has heretofore been answered or maybe even understood.

Perhaps the easiest of the goals will be to clarify the present economic condition. On that there appears to be a consensus: the country, the entire trading world, is in a precarious condition because of inflation.

The dilemma facing all these nations is that none of the alternatives open to them is completely desirable. Further inflation might lead to collapse. But needed restraint could put economies into a tailspin also.

Agreement on the causes of inflation will be difficult to achieve, but the discussion itself should be worthwhile. Not everyone is convinced, as the Nixon administration seemed to feel, that excess domestic demand is the culprit.

A large and growing number of academicians, business economists and other observers believe that factors beyond domestic control are largely responsible for rising prices, and that the cure isn't to throw people out of work and depress business.

Probe 2nd LSH Death

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The U.S. Justice Department has confirmed it is investigating the death of a second inmate at Lima State Hospital.

A deputy director in the civil rights division, Michael Lottman, said the department is probing the death of Algie Baxter Jr., 30, found dead in his cell July 19.

The coroner's report says Baxter turned his metal cot on end and hanged himself with a rope fashioned from his bedsheet. Baxter was six feet tall and weighed 200 pounds.

Earlier, the Justice Department announced it was looking into the death of Freddie Bobbs Jr., 36, of Cincinnati. Bobbs had been found dead in his cell June 7.

Ford Foundation Grant For Xavier

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Xavier University business college announced Wednesday that it has received a $75,000 grant from the Ford Foundation.

A spokesman said the school will use the funds to install a computer information system to train business students.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, Aug. 29, the 241st day of 1974. There are 124 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1782, nearly 1,100 persons drowned when an English man-o-war sank while being repaired in the harbor at Portsmouth, England.

On this date —

In 1533, the last Incan king of Peru, Atahualpa, was strangled on the orders of the Spanish conqueror, Francisco Pizarro.

In 1817, the first Abolition newspaper in the United States, the Philanthropist, was published in Mount Pleasant, Ohio.

In 1901, the temperance crusader, Carry Nation, swung her hatchet in an attack on a New York saloon run by former heavyweight champion John L. Sullivan.

In 1935, Queen Astrid of Belgium was killed in an auto accident in Switzerland.

In 1943, Danish warships were scuttled at Copenhagen in an uprising against the Nazis during World War II.

In 1945, Gen. Douglas MacArthur left Manila for Tokyo to accept Japan's surrender at the end of the war.

Ten years ago: Hurricane Cleo broke up after causing more than $200 million in damage in the Caribbean and along the Florida coast.

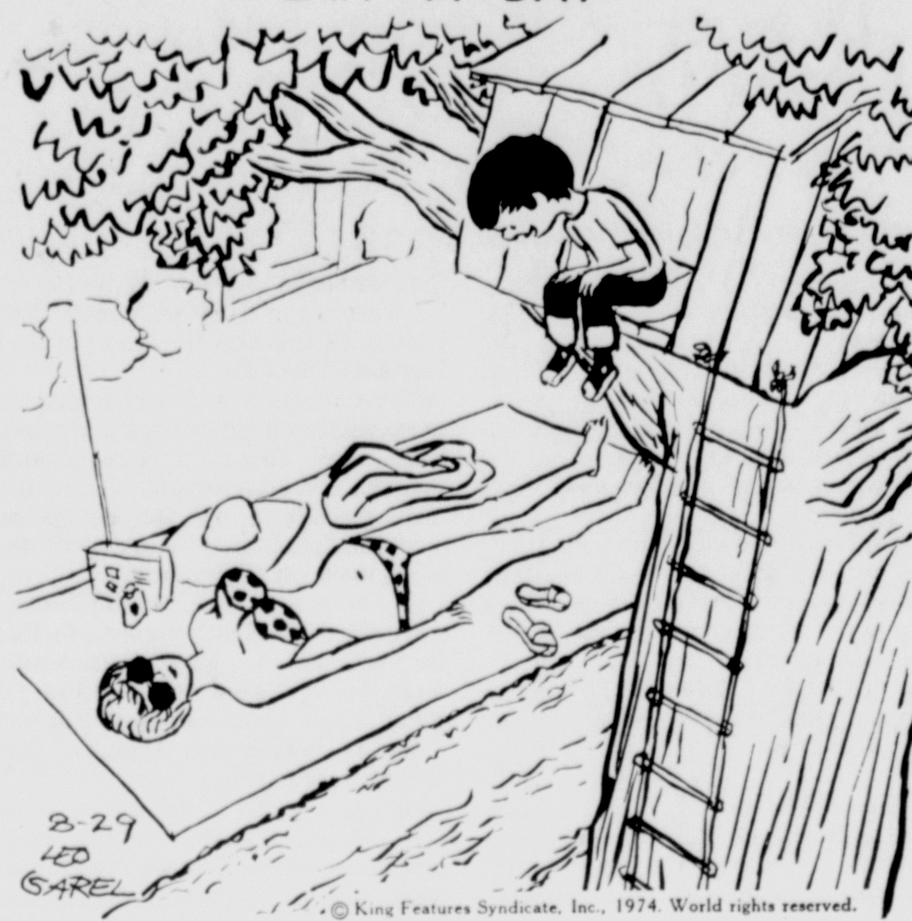

Five years ago: A Trans World airlines plane, with 113 persons aboard, was hijacked by Arab guerrillas and forced to land in Damascus while flying from Rome to Athens and Tel Aviv.

One year ago: The White House announced that President Nixon would not comply with an order from Judge John Sirica to make tape recordings of Watergate conversations available to him for use by a grand jury.

Today's birthdays: General Lyman Lemnitzer is 75. Actor Barry Sullivan is 62.

Thought for today: We used to have actresses trying to become stars, now we have stars trying to become actresses — Laurence Olivier.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Is it routine for all boys to be circumcised at birth? Are there health advantages that we weren't aware of years ago?

My daughter will soon have a baby and her husband is firm about believing this should be done.

Mrs. F.B., Del.

Dear Mrs. B.:

The advantage of circumcision is that hygiene of the penis is easier in a circumcised male.

A condition known as "phimosis" occasionally occurs in uncircumcised males. When this exists, the uncut foreskin cannot be pushed back easily for proper cleaning.

Many men go through their lives without the need for circumcision. Their sex life and their capacity to have children are in no way affected.

There should be no hard and fast rule that all male babies should be circumcised. However, it is generally accepted that this simple procedure is of value.

Many adult males find that circumcision would be helpful to them if the hygiene of the penis becomes difficult.

Circumcision is not a religious ritual. In some aboriginal tribes, where neither the wheel nor the hammer is yet in use, circumcision is part of a ritual of puberty.

An interesting sidelight of circumcision is the fact that it has been thought that the reason why Jewish women rarely develop cancer of the cervix or the uterus is that Jewish males are always circumcised.

This relationship has not been definitely verified scientifically.

Another strange phenomenon is that cancer of the penis occurs less frequently in circumcised males.

I believe that most physicians consider it advantageous to circumcise a child in infancy.

Twice I have been bitten by a stingray fish. It took weeks for the hole in my toe to heal. Is there any special way to treat this bite so that it can heal quickly?

Mr. J.D., Fla.

Dear Mr. D.:

The venom of the stingray can be removed rapidly with heat applied to the bitten part. Submerging it in hot water for at least 45 minutes is of value.

The water should be as hot as the patient can tolerate without burning or injuring the skin.

The "hole" you describe was probably a small ulcer caused by one of the stingray's spines which may have broken off and been left in the toe.

Justice Tom C. Clark, associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, retired, commended Judge William Ammer of Circleville for his work as a faculty advisor of the National College of State Trial Judges at the University of Nevada in Reno.

Two young Circleville girls were accidentally sprayed with tar when they rode their bicycles past a tar truck at Union and Abernathy Sts. They were treated at Berger Hospital.

George Weller carded a par 5 on the 18th hole at Upper Lansdowne Golf Links to win the B Flight championship. Jerry Pritchard, who finished fourth in the match, had a 2 stroke lead after nine holes with a 45. Weller fired a 47-44 for a 91 total.

Woodlyn Grain Co. manager, Smith Lingo Jr., Route 2, Williamsport, announced his retirement after 30 years with the company.

B y EILEEN EASTERDAY, PHONE 986-3481

Hey, kids, those lazy, carefree summer vacation days are rapidly coming to an all-too-soon end. Much too soon the school bells will be ringing for another term and all of us, students, parents, teachers, bus drivers, the whole ball of wax will have our lives governed by school schedules. Ah! well, we can't always have things our way. Thank goodness for three months.

As might be gathered, I like having my offspring at home but such is not the scheme of life so unto the public school system I render my youngest (Amy) and to the higher level of learning —college—I yield daughter Becki as a freshman. May each of their days be one of joyful experience and learning and so be it for every student.

Taking a page from Marilyn (Mrs. George) Lemaster whose pet peeve is those careless drivers who do not heed the flasher lights of a school bus and go right ahead and pass let us further comment that with school so near to opening please, please be more cautious, all you drivers, and when you see a school bus why not automatically take your foot from the accelerator (just as you would if you saw a patrol car)!

As a bus driver in the Westfall School District, Marilyn knows whereof she speaks since she has had drivers pass her bus more than once when they should not have. Who wants the memory of a badly injured or even dead child on their conscience and that is exactly what can happen when proper caution is not exercised.

Winners
Many village families are justifiably filled with pride over the accomplishment of relatives during the Grange contests at the Ohio State Fair.

Sandy and Susan Drummond walked away with top place in the ages 10-14 vocal duet category. Susan's mother, Mrs. Paul (Louise) Drummond was their accompanist. Sandy is a daughter of David and Marabel and is a student at Westfall Junior High. Susan is a grandniece of localites Frank and Mary Clark. She and her family live near Clarksburg.

Another Westfall Junior High product, Doug Martin son of Don and Joyce Martin took first place honors for a reading in the 10-14 age group.

An original play "Operation, Stuffed Pigeon," written by Steve Speakman and with cast members Steve and Judith Gary, Mrs. Willard Wood and Barbara and the playwright and directed by Mrs. Glenn (Ruth) Anderson topped first place in that division.

Steve the writer is a grandson of our own Mrs. Una Higman and a son of Dick and Judy Speakman of Clarksburg. Judith Gary is a niece of Tommy and Mae Carter and Roy and Margaret Anderson of our town. Judith's mother, Mrs. Glenn Anderson, is, of course, their sister-in-law. All the award winners are members of the Clarksburg Grange but as you can see they have close ties here.

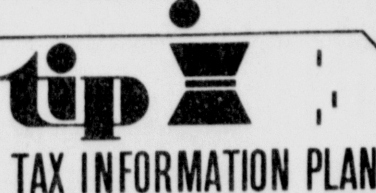

Councilman Harmon and Dorothy Lemming are newly arrived back in town after a really fantastic vacation trip of over 3,000 miles that took them first to Longview, Texas where they spent time with Mrs. Mary Lemming and returned seven-year-old granddaughter Renee Lemming to her home from a visit she had made here with her father Glen Lemming at Dayton and her Williamsport grandparents. From Longview our travelers took the beautiful scenic route through New Orleans and other parts of Louisiana, Gulfport and Biloxi, Miss. and thence to Orange Park, Fla. and the home of Chief Petty Officer

Eugene Lemming and his family. Our Lemmings were accorded the royal red carpet treatment and thoroughly enjoyed to the hilt every moment from the tour of the Jacksonville Naval Air Station to dinner at the swank CPO club to the whole week of activities as planned for them.

St. Augustine, picturesque oldest United States city, was on their agenda and a day at the Atlantic Ocean was, too. The whole tourist bit which is the way it should be. Traveling by means of a vacation motor home our folks found the KAO Campgrounds much to their liking for overnight stops. A trip is truly wonderful and always enjoyed but somehow coming home has its high spots, too. Right?

Another family on the travel circuit, Harold and Barbara Lambert and daughter Darlene and her close "buddy" Janet Hastings have journeyed to Apache Junction, Arizona to enjoy the company of good friends Emory and Rose Grambo who are formerly from this area.

The vacationers have toured through Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, New Mexico and parts of Ohio. Other family members are keeping all in order here at home while the travelers are doing their thing. Janet is a daughter of "Biggie" and Shirley Hastings.

Tammy, Patty and Julie Litter of Londonderry are keeping grandparents Herschel and Mae Litter in line while the parents of the girls, Eddie and Peggy are vacationing. Another Litter daughter, Tracey, is adding her charm to the doings at the home of Uncle "Butch" and Aunt Mary Ann Russell, Rita, Tina and Pete near Clarksburg. The Butch (Dale) Russells are remodeling their home here in preparation of moving back to our town in the very near future.

Our sweet neighbors, Harry and Emma Puffinbarger, called to our attention the other evening the fascinating sight of hundreds and hundreds of birds flying out of the southwest over our corner (S. Water and Walnut Sts.) and seemingly headed in the direction of Deercreek Dam area. This happens each evening around about 8 p.m. I have asked the question before and will repeat—are the birds having a "fly-in", perhaps a "bird-in" or is it birds of a feather flocking together?

Be sure to attend the fourth annual Williamsport Sulphur Spring Festival and acquire your very first Foofoe. Never before has it been offered in this area so be among the first to be a part of the newest, hottest rage to hit the country. Spoken like a seasoned promoter, I hope. The cost will be modest and the enjoyment is unending.

Royalty Contestants
Entries are now being taken for all those who wish to participate in the royalty contests at the Festival to be held Sept. 11 thru Sept. 14. Send name, age, address, parents name and phone number to Festival, Royalty Contest, Box 328, Williamsport, Ohio 43164.

Entries must be made before midnight, Sept. 7, 1974. This is a strict rule and there are no exceptions. Make sure the entry is addressed properly because the Festival Committee will not be responsible for undelivered mail.

The teen age king and queen (ages 13-19) and the pre-teen king and queen (9-12) will be selected on Wednesday evening following a 6:30 p.m. parade of all the contestants for that evening. Each entrant must furnish a car for the parade and must be at S. Main and Walnut Streets (3 blocks south of traffic light) no later than 5:30 p.m. for pre-registration verification.

Little prince and princess (ages 4-8) entries are to follow the exact same registering rules and the same deadline applies. There will be no parade, however, but instead the contestants should be at the stage area at the Pavilion no later than 7 p.m. on Sept. 12. Judging will begin at 7:30 p.m.

The program for the 1974 Festival has been revamped and we of the official committee are hopeful it meets with widespread approval. A good number of local citizens are busily attending to last minute details and are putting forth many long, hard hours of work to ensure a bigger and better Festival. We hope we have the opportunity to see and chat with each and everyone of you so come on out to see us.

Dwight and Gwen Anderson, Bill and Anabel Rhinesmith are now at home talking to their friends about the big one that didn't (or did) get away on their fishing trip that took them to the glorious fishing waters of Canada. Teri Stewart, an Anderson granddaughter, had fun fishing, too. Teri and her mother and stepfather Sharon and Bill Allman and brother Andy are the new tenants in our corner house.

Papa Bill Easterday and Ron Bush took off bright and early Saturday a.m. for Portland, Indiana and the Tri-State Antique Gasoline Engine Show. They returned home in the early Monday a.m. hours laden with homemade apple butter (one of the shows specialties) and other interesting souvenirs. On Friday evening prior to departure Papa Bill, yours truly and Amy had dinner at the fabulous Lincoln Lodge seafood smorgasbord once again. For those of you who like seafood this is like going to seafood heaven. Oh! wow! fantastic!!!

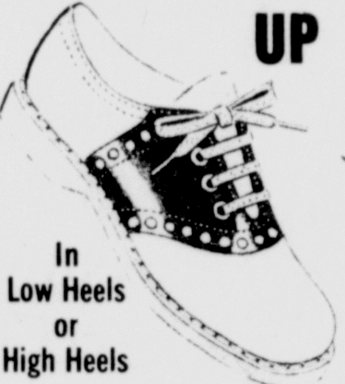

It had been one whale (guess my mind is on the sea, huh?) of a busy week for Ron and Marilyn Bush. Earlier they entertained Aunt Irene Sorensen who was here from New York, Gene and Dorothy Bush, Pat and Diana Eyck, Krist and Danielle from Chillicothe; on another evening they hosted a cook-out for long time friends Dick and Gloria Henson, Jeri, Miles and Drew. The Hensons will be departing these home grounds for Nevada very shortly.

For several years it has been a dream of the Hensons to pull up local stakes and head West and the year 1974 finds them following their dream. Dick has a brother Don who has resided "thataway" for quite some time. Another evening the Bush couple with sons Mike and Tim drove over to Somerset to be with Marilyn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. "Doc" Dupler and her sister who was in from Florida for a visit.

This week will be total collapse—well, not really because Ron carries the heavy burden of booking all concessions into our Festival and that "ain't" no easy job, man. No way.

Happiness is hearing from an away from home son or daughter or even doubly happy is having them come home and so it will be for us Friday afternoon when our sweetheart of a daughter from Nicaragua will be with us for the Labor Day weekend.

And so it was this evening (Monday) when on answering the ringing of the telephone it was her lovely voice on the other end. Our Maria Martha is back in Ohio and enrolled as a freshman at Mount Saint Joseph College at Cincinnati. Maria Martha and a cousin of hers who is also enrolled as a freshman at St. Joe's will both brighten our corner this weekend.

Here we are now on Tuesday a.m. and what a pleasant way to start the day in that I have just had a very nice chat with Russel and Helen McDill of Worthington who are in town seeing friends and particularly one of my good neighbors, Mrs. Bertha Porter. We Easterdays have been especially blessed in the richness of having outstandingly good neighbors—on our former corner and on our present corner each and every neighbor has and is the perfect jewel. The McDills are former Williamsporters of many years standing. Mr. McDill was principal of the one time Williamsport Elementary school before his retirement a few years ago. Both are looking quite well.

Dick and Janet Barton and children of Yatesville stopped by our home Monday evening and were also at the home of Everett and Alberta Moore. The Bartons are former residents on the Hornbeck-Garver Rd. Plans are in the making for one of the "old time" fish fries a whole gang of us used to get together and have at the Bartons.

Papa Bill always does the fish frying honors with his enormous skillet from WW1 days (not him—the skillet) and the special contraption he built that serves as the heating unit. He produces some mighty fine lip smacking, soul satisfying fried fish, that's for sure.

Round-Up
Last call from the bunk house to all you out yonder about the Westfall Mustang Round-Up to be held Labor Day at the Westfall High School located on Route 56 between Mt. Sterling and Circleville. Jerry Newton and his Joann along with an experienced crew of fish fryers will be serving up delicious fish sandwiches and also hot dogs and other assorted snacks beginning at 5 p.m.

At 6:30 p.m. the evening's program will start with the intro of the reserve (known at Westfall as junior varsity) cheerleaders, Coach John Glanton's mighty muscled Mustangs, band director Jim Kibby and his mighty musical marching Mustangs, the varsity cheering squad and then the icing on the cake so to speak—the Ms. Mustang contest.

Unique to Westfall's Round-Up is the Ms. Mustang. To be eligible you must be a male resident of the Westfall school district and dress in the contestants version of what makes for a good "beauty" candidate and what imaginative ideas have been conjured up in the past you could never believe without seeing. So come on out this year—seeing is believing. General chairman for this years event is Mrs. Harvey (Margene) Looney.

Be with you again next week, be the Lord willing. Take care.

Garden Club Has Program On Mocking Birds

Twelve members were present for the August meeting of Logan Elm Garden Club held in the home of Mrs. Neil Morris, Route 1, Kingston. Two poems read by the hostess were used for meditation.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Doris Edwards, president. A note of thanks from Mrs. Marie Gibson, chairman of Pickaway County Fair Flower Show, was read thanking the club for its help during the fair.

Schedules were distributed for a flower show to be given by Monrovia Garden Club on Sept. 9th. Logan Elm Club was invited to attend and participate.

It was announced there will be a flower show at the Veterans' Hospital in Chillicothe on Sept. 7th and 8th. This will be open to the public.

It was decided to retain the present slate of officers for the coming year who will be installed during the September meeting.

Following the business session, Mrs. Doris Edwards gave a talk on mocking birds. She said although there are several different species, the ruby throated mocking birds are most common in our area.

Since the gladioli was listed in the club calendar as being the flower for August, hints were given as to how and where to plant them.

The chance gift was brought by Mrs. Luther List and won by Mrs. Wayne Morris. Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting.

61st Birthday Feted By Family Of Elmer Payne

Thirty-six children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren gathered Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Payne, Route 1, Laurelville to celebrate Mr. Payne's 61st birthday.

Present for the festive occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. Carl (Pat) Stump, Robin and Vickie, Lancaster; Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Stump, Timmie and Lisa, Circleville; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Cheadle, Chad, Ronnie, Jeremy, Cheryl and Tonya, Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Stump, Shawn and Krista, and Mr. and Mrs. Carla Hoover and Chastity, Lancaster; Mr. and Mrs. Keith Payne and Keith Jr., Laurelville; Mr. and Mrs. William Graham, Joy, Mona and Hope; Jim and Sherry Short.

There were 11 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren present. The Payne's also have two grandsons and one great-grandson living in Lakeland, Fla.

After dinner the families played games and took pictures. Evening guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Payne, Jane and Kenny.

Junior Women's Club Resumes Meetings

Circleville Junior Women's Club will hold its first meeting following summer recess 8 p.m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Diane Jenkins, 515 Lawnwood Court.

Guest speaker will be Betty Jo McCorkle, Central Ohio River District Director of Juniors OFWC.

Members are to be prepared to sign up for working times at the Pumpkin Show booth.

Guild 47 Begins Season's Meetings

Berger Hospital Guild 47 will hold its first meeting of the new season 7:30 p.m., Sept. 17th, in the home of Mrs. Larry D. Taylor, 401 Edwards Road.

Officers for the present year are: Mrs. Richard Dean, president; Mrs. Larry D. Taylor, vice president; Mrs. James Hinton, treasurer and Mrs. Earl Ford, secretary.

The Circleville Herald, Thursday August 29, 1974

MRS. DAVID C. BETTS JR.

Miss Nedra J. Dresbach Bride Of David C. Betts

Trinity Lutheran Church of Circleville was the setting for the evening wedding of Aug. 9th uniting Miss Nedra Jane Dresbach and Mr. David C. Betts Jr. with Pastor Carl C. Zehner officiating.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Ned H. Dresbach, Oak Park, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David C. Betts Sr., Marshall Rd.

Prenuptial music presented by Mrs. Thomas Downing, organist, added to the dignity of the double ring ceremony.

For her wedding the bride chose a Piccone gown of silk faced peau de soie in ivory. A high neckline and V-shaped yoke accented the bodice. Venise lace with pale blue ribbon strewn through outlined the yoke, neckline, sleeves and created a deep hemline.

Her Juliet cap with elbow length

Girl Scouts Need Director, Leaders

Mrs. Richard Armstrong, service unit director of Logan Trails, has announced women are needed for director, troop organizers and troop consultants for local Girl Scouts and Brownies.

Leaders are needed for Junior Troops at Atwater School, Brownie Troops at Nicholas Drive, Court Street and Mound Street Schools.

Anyone with a little time to give is asked to contact Mrs. Armstrong at 474-3716.

illusion was covered with puckered organza and trimmed with matching ribbon as that on the gown. The bride's colonial bouquet held lilies of the valley, stephanotis and daisies centered with an orchid.

Miss Christine Edstrom, maid of honor, wore a floor length voile gown in green with high neckline and ruffle trim on the yoke and hemline, accented with a cabbage rose on the set-in waistband. She carried a wicker basket of yellow and white daisies.

Mr. Patrick DePugh performed the duties of best man. Guests were seated by Mr. David Tatman and Mr. Hugh Dresbach, brother of the bride.

Hostesses for the reception in the church parlor were Miss Amy West, Mrs. Jeffery Jones, and Mrs. Kevin Kunke. Mrs. Philip Stevens registered guests.

After a wedding trip to Virginia and the Carolinas the couple will reside at Wookbrook Apartments, Columbus, where the bride will be a senior at Mt. Carmel School of Nursing. Mr. Betts will be associated with big Bear Co., Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Betts, parents of the groom hosted a rehearsal dinner for the wedding party at Wardells Party Home Thursday evening, Aug. 8th.

Annual Picnic Held By Scioto Chapel Women's Society

Scioto Chapel Women's Society recently held its annual family picnic at the cabin of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hudson, located in an attractive setting on the banks of Darby Creek.

The evening was spent in neighborly visiting and enjoying a bountiful carry-in supper. The hosts provided hot and cold drinks for 25 members and guests.

No business meeting was held, but members and friends are reminded of the fall rummage sale to be held at the Parish House in Robtown the first part of October.

The September meeting will be held at the Parish House at 7:30 p.m. on Sept. 12th with hostesses, Mrs. Mabel Isham, Mrs. Frances Noggle and Mrs. Alice Ward.

Coverlet Exhibit Planned Sunday At Museum

An exhibition of coverlets, the work of inspired American craftsmen, opens 2 p.m. Sunday at Pickaway County Historical Society Museum at the corner of W. Union and Pickaway Sts. in Circleville. The exhibition is sponsored locally by the Ohio Arts Council and is being circulated nationally by the Smithsonian Institution.

Coverlets differ from quilts in that the former were woven and later stitched. Both forms of craftwork were made of wool, linen or cotton.

The word "coverlet" comes from the Old French "couvrir" (to cover) and "lit" (bed.)

In addition to the coverlets, all from the Smithsonian's collection, the exhibition includes 13 large color reproductions of other fine examples of this craft too delicate to easily exhibit. According to the Ohio Arts Council, the state was chosen because of its rich heritage of crafts and its continuing interest in American folklore.

The exhibit is a prototype for a series of traveling exhibits commemorating the 1976 American Revolution Bicentennial. Ten entire series, entitled "The Evolution Of American Culture," is designed to assist communities throughout the United States in organizing local bicentennial celebrations.

Mrs. Emily Berry Attends National Council Conference

Mrs. Emily Berry of Ashville has returned from the 38th annual National Extension Homemakers Council conference held recently at the University of Illinois.

Mrs. Berry, representing Pickaway County, was one of 2,000 homemakers from 42 states and Puerto Rico who attended sessions based on the theme "Homemakers Grow And Share."

She took part in the educational workshop on "Highway And Recreation" and "Safety — Mission CATCH," taught by Dwight E. Pitman, superintendent of Illinois State Police. Recreation safety speaker was Ben Harris, specialist with the National Safety Council. Mission CATCH means Changing Attitudes Through Court Handling.

It was suggested that women get involved in court activities if they aren't satisfied with the way traffic violators are being handled and be volunteer monitors in the courtroom. They should make an effort to get alcoholics and drunk drivers off the highways.

During free time at the conference the delegates visited places of interest in Springfield including Lincoln's Tomb, his home, New Salem Village and the old State House.

Would-Be Soviet College Students Feel Pinch

MOSCOW (AP) — "I haven't done much of anything since June," Valery said wearily. "I've spent all that time — well most of it — cramming for exams."

Like hordes of other 1974 Soviet high school graduates, Valery was preparing for a crucial series of tests, administered nationwide in August, which determined whether he would be allowed to embark on a higher education.

For 940,000 students, the pressure-ridden exams in four or five subjects, culminating 10 years of study, ended in triumph. Those students — about 20 per cent of the high school graduating class — were admitted to beginning studies at the Soviet Union's 845 universities and institutes.

But there were thousands of others who either failed or did not score high enough to compete with other applicants at the institutions which they hoped to attend.

It's the college crunch — Soviet style.

A recent Soviet educational study said that on the average, higher schools accept one of three applicants, but the Ivy League schools of the Soviet Union, such as Moscow State University and the University of Leningrad, and some prestigious institutes and art schools have a much higher turn-down rate.

For those who are not admitted to higher schools, as the magazine Mos-

va put it, the experience is a "catastrophe of life."

Soviet students start preparing for the entrance exams as early as three years before they actually take them, the magazine said.

"They do not imagine any other way for themselves," Moskva soberly concluded. "Not all of them know what speciality they will study but they have taken the institute for granted. Parents hire teachers for them who, in their opinion, know every question usually asked at the entrance examinations."

The exams, most of which are given orally over about a two-week period, are more important than the American college board tests because they're the prime criterion for college admission.

Komsomolskaya Pravda, a Soviet youth newspaper, has been critical of the exam process, claiming it "sometimes hampers the possibility to give an objective assessment of the knowledge and capability of young people entering institutions."

In an effort to overcome this problem, a new set of entrance regulations was issued two years ago demanding that students' high school grades and evidence of their work and "conscientiousness" be taken more into account.

The high school admission squeeze stems partly from the fact that the Soviet Union has taken such giant strides in making higher education, previously a privilege of the rich, available to many more of its people.

As a result, young people's expectations that they will go to higher schools have risen accordingly.

For the past few years, the Soviet Union has been trying to persuade some of its young people to opt for a job after secondary school graduation rather than try to go on to a higher school.

But, like their American counterparts, Soviet youth are increasingly shying away from the blue-collar or manual jobs and yearn for the prestige and the expected good employment won through a higher education diploma.

About half of the 4.6 million persons studying at higher education establishments do have jobs, attending classes in the evening or by correspondence. By Soviet law, they are given time off from their jobs to study and take examinations.

Of the 845 higher education institutions, only 62 are universities, a third not more than 10 years old. The remainder are highly specialized institutes, which concentrate on one of hundreds of fields, from mechanical engineering to languages to cinematography.

But even the universities are professional schools by American standards. With strong emphasis on sciences and technology rather than on general and broad scholarship and learning.

The intense desire for higher education has spawned a wide variety of abuses in the application procedure. The Soviet press is constantly critical of the use of political power and connections by parents to gain special privileges for their children.

Because tuition and dormitory lodging are free, students aren't hampered as much by finances in getting an education in the Soviet Union as they are in some countries.

About 75 per cent also receive a government stipend, ranging from 40 rubles upwards, but in most cases, it's not enough to cover all expenses. Most students still receive money and food packages from their parents.

Despite official Soviet insistence that education is equally available to all, the majority of higher education students are children of white-collar workers made up 59.6 per cent of the total number of students, despite the fact that group comprises only about 21 per cent of the population.

MRS. JOE JENKINS — 474-5542

There will be a council meeting at St. Jacobs Lutheran Church on Sunday morning following the morning worship service.

The United Methodist Women will have their September meeting at the home of Mrs. Richard Rhymmer, Stoutsville, on Wednesday, at 2 p.m. Hostesses will be Mrs. Rhymmer, Mrs. Lillie Morrison and Mrs. Venita Soft. Members are requested to meet at the church, and transportation will be provided for all who wish to attend.

While vacationing at Rocky Fork State Park last week, Mr. and Mrs. Ray McJunkin attended the Boston United Methodist annual Fish Fry held at the Highland County Coon Hunters Lodge.

Those visiting Mr. and Mrs. McJunkin at their campsite on Sunday, to celebrate Mr. McJunkin's birthday, were Mrs. Conn Collison, Trina, Kim and Donnie, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Crowell, all of Lancaster, and Mark and Ray Gene McJunkin.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Ash and Teryl were hosts at a family dinner on Sunday evening honoring Mrs. Ash's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Herron on their 34th anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Evan Hay and Miss Linda Hay were weekend guests of Mr. Hay's mother in Sandy Hook Ky.

Steve Hedges, Washington C. H., visited his grandmother, Mrs. Genevieve Hedges, on Sunday, and they attended the Hinton Reunion at Tar Hollow.

Friends were saddened to learn of the death of Mrs. Gwendolyn Defenbaugh. The Defenbaughs had been long time residents of Saltcreek Valley and sympathy is extended to all the family.

Mrs. Margaret Ballard tells us she received a card from Mary Reichelderfer Wertman, of Delaware, Ohio. Mrs. Wertman was in Bombay, India and was then going to London before returning home.

Gov. Gilligan Raps Rhodes

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Democratic Gov. John Gilligan criticized his Republican challenger, James Rhodes, Wednesday for refusing to "provide the people of Ohio with the names of all his campaign contributors."

"Don't the people, after all they've been through, have a right to know?" Gilligan asked the audience at a Richland County Democratic dinner. Gilligan said Rhodes has asked the chief executive officers of major corporations across the country to give him $1,000 for each installation they operate in Ohio.

After expressing doubt that the people would believe the executives would donate $1,000 of their own money for each facility their companies owned in Ohio, Gilligan asked:

"And even if those executives are convinced Mr. Rhodes would do much to fatten the profits of their businesses and the size of their own personal year-end bonuses, are the people of Ohio expected to stand by and have this election bought lock, stock and barrel by the corporations?"

Welch hosted the August meeting of the King's Helpers Class of the Methodist Church at their home on Saturday evening.

The Rev. Welch opened the meeting with prayer, and the president, Lloyd Spung conducted the business meeting.

Lucia Spangler reported on the sale of old papers, and the class agreed to again collect papers for sale. Anyone having old papers or magazines should contact any member of the class.

The Reverend and Mrs. Carl Wetherell were welcomed as new members.

Mrs. Welch presented an original name contest which was won by Roanne Spung and Ella Mae Jenkins.

Refreshments were served by the Welch's to the following: Genevieve Hedges, Ruth Hunt, Lucia Spangler, Ann Stevens, John and Mable Cox, Joe and Ella Mae Jenkins, Ray and Betty McJunkin, George and Bertha O'Hara, Richard and Violet Rhymmer, Lloyd and Roanne Spung, The Rev. Carl and Myrtle Wetherell and Brian Pontius.

Ohio Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A cold front which moved into Ohio Tuesday evening remained stationary Thursday, continuing rains heavy enough to bring a flash flood watch for the central and southern portions of the state.

Since showers began Tuesday evening, Dayton has had over three and a half inches of rain, Cincinnati 2.56, Youngstown 1.76, Canton and Akron 1.62 and more than an inch at Findlay and Mansfield.

It was much cooler over the state. Highs ranged from 64 at Youngstown to 76 in the Cincinnati area and the mid 80s in the Ironton area.

Showers and thundershowers appear likely for all but the extreme northwest corner of Ohio today and tonight. Some areas of heavy rainfall appear likely again today in the flash flood watch portion of the state.

Rains are expected to end in the northern portions of the state Friday morning, but may continue in the southern sections. Not much change in temperatures is indicated.

AT BOOKS IN THE CHILDREN'S LIBRARY

If it's too hot for outdoor adventuring and you've already been to the fair, then cool everyone down with a light weight paperback.

There's been a shortage in the Charlie Brown department so we have added dozens, yes dozens of new titles. More fun is in store, too, with additional copies of "Believe It Or Not" by Ripley and "Family Circus."

For humor of the endearing sort there is "Mostly Mary" the story of a very determined bear whose unusual talents include counting backwards.

Beverly Cleary has been voted one of children's favorite authors by students in Ohio. "Runaway Ralph" is an audacious mouse who zooms about on his tiny motorcycle searching for freedom. Ralph and other Cleary favorites are now available as paper backs.

There are also new books in the Henry Reed paperback series. Henry is always trying to earn money and be helpful, but ridiculous problems seem to haunt him. Try "Henry Reed's Journey" and "Henry Reed's Baby Sitting Service."

Girls can be enterprising, too. "Georgina and the Dragon" is about one girl's effort to earn her own way with no help, especially from boys. This is a rollicking tale for the upper elementary age group.

The "Silver Nutmeg" is definitely bewitching. It is a tender little fantasy about an upside down world just beyond the garden wall. There's a touch of nostalgia, too, in the pen and ink drawings of a simpler world of long ago.

"The Witch Family" by Eleanor Estes is unlike other witch adventures. The Old Witch is banished from the world by the power of two sweet, charming and tough little girls. This would suit the better than average reader who is looking for a one-of-a-kind story.

Young cat lovers will welcome more tales of the Cat Club in the new "Captains of the City Streets." No docile pets, Sinbad and Duke are unabashedly tramps. They have style and nerve and their exploits are thoroughly entertaining.

A mystery with both suspense and action on a third grade level is eagerly sought after by third graders who have a treat in store for them. Pilot Books has introduced the Spotlight Club. The latest titles are "Mystery at McAdoo Zoo" and "Hidden Box Mystery." The readers are encouraged to follow the clues and come up with their own solutions. That should keep the kids reading! The author, Florence Heide, is a former winner of the American Library Association's notable book's award for children.

Don't forget to check our shelves for copies of "Little Town on the Prairie" and other books in the same series. The television programs this fall will be based on these well loved stories by Laura Ingalls Wilder.

PPG Completes Treatment Plant At Local Facility

PPG Industries has announced start-up of a new $750,000 waste water treatment at its Coatings & Resins Division facility at Circleville. Construction began in 1972.

Howard J. Mather, vice president of industrial products, said the plant has the capacity to treat more than 142,000 gallons of liquid waste per day.

The system was designed to meet proposed effluent guidelines of the Environmental Protection Agency, Mather said. It has the capability of handling additional waste material resulting from future plant production, and allows for flexibility if more stringent effluent standards are imposed, he added.

The Circleville waste water treatment plant currently utilizes the best practical control technology, and contaminants are 95 per cent effectively removed, Mather said.

PPG first considered basic abatement concepts at Circleville in 1970 with a detailed analysis of the waste streams within the plant, according to James M. Butler, plant manager.

Several treatment methods were evaluated at the site in pilot plant operations and the most efficient system was then incorporated into the design of the plant with the approval of the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency.

Group Fights Suit Against School Board

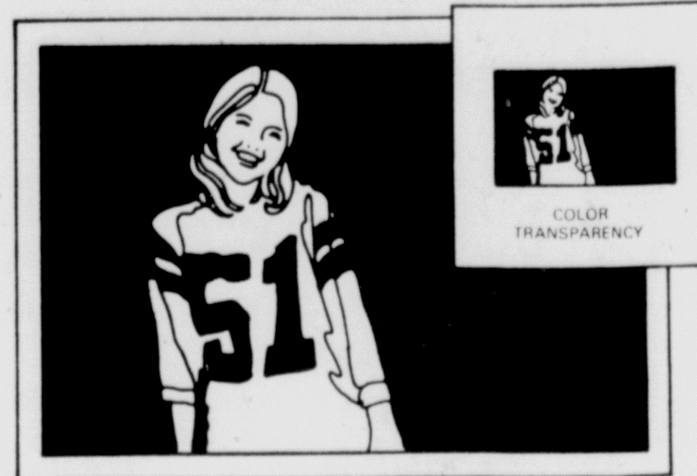

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A citizens' group calling itself Citizens for Neighborhood Schools has been formed to fight the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People's suit against the Cincinnati Board of Education.

Ann Patty, a member of the group's executive board said the organization opposes the NAACP's busing plan and feels "there is a large class of people in the Cincinnati School District currently not represented in the suit."

Judge Puts Candidate On Ballot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A federal court judge ruled Wednesday that a congressional candidate should be restored to the ballot even though his personal campaign expense report arrived after the deadline.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said the decision would have "nothing to do whatsoever" with the case of State Sen. Donald E. "Buz" Lukens.

Lukens, R-4 Middletown, was barred from seeking public office for five years under Ohio's old law. It enables him, however, to fill out his term.

Lukens' expense statement was postmarked 12 days late, Brown said. He said the circumstances involving William Mack, a Republican who won the nomination to Congress in the 21st District were different.

Brown ruled Mack off the ballot, claiming his statement was not received before the June 21 filing deadline.

U.S. District Judge William K. Thomas said Ohio law was vague on the issue, saying the deadline could refer either to the time the report was mailed or the date it was received.

In Lukens' case, the senator contended he had mailed an earlier report that the Butler County Board of Elections said it never received.

A new law that went into effect last month eliminates the "can't run" provision from the law, but places a monetary fine upon violators.

Chief Quits In Dispute

WEST CHESTER, Ohio (AP) — Police Chief William Noland of the Union Township announced his resignation Wednesday, effective Sept. 9, citing "slandorous" allegations, lack of support and harassment.

"I feel this is the only recourse open to me under the circumstances," Noland wrote the township's trustees.

Noland said in his letter that he lacked funds to hire sufficient manpower, had no means to counter alleged slanderous attacks and harassment from the news media, had no citizen support and had little cooperation from other area law enforcement officials.

Noland has been chief since August, 1971. In November, 1972, he was reportedly drugged while off-duty and a year later he was admitted to a local hospital after being shot in the right temple.

Butz Curbs Fears Of Corn Shortage

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz has been telling the world for weeks not to panic because of the drought-reduced U.S. corn crop, and apparently his advice is working.

Last week Japan told Butz it will need 10 per cent less livestock feed grain from the United States next year, and now the European Common Market says the same.

The European situation was laid out on Wednesday by Petrus Lardinois, the market's commissioner of agriculture. He estimated that cutbacks in livestock production in the coming year will mean about 10 per cent less corn and other feed grain will be needed from the United States.

But Lardinois, who appeared at a news conference with Butz, said higher ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—It wasn't a phantom motorists saw walking along Ohio 2 near Elyria early one recent morning. It was a very lucky fourteen-year-old boy who strolled across all four lanes of the highway while sound asleep.

"He was really out," Patrolman Mark Capretto said about Mark Arndt of Erie, Pa. Mark's family, en route to Erie from Sandusky Ohio, had stopped on the highway to repair their trailer's flat tire when they realized the youth was missing, the patrolman said.

Capretto, along with cruisers from Amherst and Elyria, drove along the highway until they found the boy asleep near a guardrail.

Harold Hewitt, YMCA Director, and Mrs. Bev Hanley, drill team instructor, presented this years awards.

Girls receiving certificates for six months membership were Joni Brown, Judi Brown, Stephanie Cassidy, Becky Hindy, Karen Koch, Jill Mullet, Jo Ann Sutton and Michelle Winne.

Receiving certificates and medals for one year membership were Lisa Arledge, Julie Beglin, Joni Carter, Angela Case, Mary Dountz, Susan Dountz, Louise Elliot, Tammy Fullen, Cheryl Hartranft, Beth Hindy, Melissa Johnson, Holly Kirk, Lisa McFadden, Francine Porter, Elaine Rittinger, Carla Russell, Marci Thompson, Deider Van Camp, Tracy Wisecup and Karyn Younkin.

Two year awards went to Sherry Bowling, Debbie Curl, Melissa Fox, Ranisa Holcoussis, Halie Sue Hollar, Renee Partee, Debbie Poling, Beth Scranton, Regina Welliver and Kim Younkin.

Debbie Curl was presented a trophy for being head majorette in Unit I. Renee Partee and Kim Younkin were presented trophies for being twin head majorettes in Unit II. Beth Hindy received a trophy for feature twirler.

A vote was taken by the parents and members and it was decided to purchase new uniforms for the coming year.

Regular drill team practice starts Sept. 2, 5:15 p.m. at the Lutheran Parish Hall.

Costly 'Pants' Cut Damage To Heart

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A very expensive "pair of pants" being tested at Metropolitan General Hospital may reduce damage to the heart muscle after a heart attack, cardiologist said Wednesday.

The $31,500 pants device is used to reverse the pressure in large blood vessels in the body, Dr. Martin Broder said.

Dr. Broder, principal investigator for the project, said the pants squeeze the patient's legs when the heart relaxes and relaxes pressure when the heart pumps.

Dr. Broder said the pants are used 11 of the first 84 hours after a patient is admitted to the hospital.

He said the treatment is not as hazardous as the catheter method, in which a balloon tip is inserted in arteries, it is not as efficient.

"This cuts down on work the heart has to do and possibly increases flow of blood to the coronary (heart) arteries," Dr. Broder said. "These actions assist the heart."

More than 90 patients have been tested in studies here and in other hospitals, Dr. Broder said.

County Receives Welfare Money

The amount of $6,284.60 will be distributed to Pickaway County in welfare assistance money, according to State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson.

The money will help cover the general relief and administration costs of their welfare operation. The general relief subsidy is derived solely from state revenue.

Pickaway County Red Cross Board Discusses Housing

Girls representing Pickaway County Chapter of the American Red Cross reported on their recent attendance to a Youth Leadership Conference at Otterbein College in Westerville, during a board meeting Thursday evening.

Robert Scranton, president, presided over the business session where the main topic discussed was housing. The property, where the chapter house is located, is to be sold and the board has requested qualified persons give their opinions as to the present and future needs of the chapter.

Etha Mae Wolford noted that many requests have been made for blood donations at the Sept. 24 visit of the Bloodmobile to Circleville. Plans are progressing for a visit to Orient in the near future.

The baby sitting classes, ending Thursday, were discussed. Particularly praised were the visual aids used and the inclusion of home nursing, baby care, first aid and rules and regulations for baby sitting.

Volunteers are needed for the regional committee which meets four times a year and advises in planning programs for the 23 county area including Pickaway.

David Shank, Mel Ehrlich, John Stebelton and Lowell Ferguson provided information on first aid and water safety. The need for more qualified instructors for swimming classes to cover more areas was noted and the use of the new Resuscitator Anne be registered for each person responsible for its care to avoid abuse of the artificial cadaver.

The two station wagons now in use by the chapter will be for sale upon receipt of the 1975 models this fall.

Vega Output Postponed

LORDSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — General Motors Corp. has moved the date of its changeover to 1975 model production here to Oct. 4-7, a company spokesman said Wednesday as full operations resumed at Vega and van-truck plants.

The initial Aug. 19 changeover date was postponed because of a strike by United Auto Workers Local 1112. As the end of negotiations neared, General Motors reset the date as Sept. 30. Then UAW members ratified a three-year local contract Tuesday, went back to work Wednesday, and GM announced the new date.

Assembly lines were "running fairly smoothly," a GM spokesman said.

The plant is to produce about 43,000 Vegas and 12,000 vans, all 1974 models, to make up partially for the nearly 50,000 Vegas and nearly 16,000 vans that would have been produced but for the strike, a GM spokesman said. The first 1975s are to roll off the line Oct. 7, he said.

Long Mine Strike Over

HARLAN, Ky. (AP) — A 13-month strike at Eastover Mining Co.'s Brookside mine in Harlan County was settled today in Washington.

The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service announced the agreement between the United Mine Workers and Duke Power Co., Eastover's parent firm.

The service announced no details but Eastover President Norman Yarborough said a no-strike provision was the keystone of the company's position at the bargaining table. He said the company made 13 different concessions in an effort to win this exception from the UMW's standard national contract.

Yarborough said the no-strike agreement would remain in effect until the union's new national contract is signed, whether or not national negotiations result in a strike which closes other mines operation under a union contract.

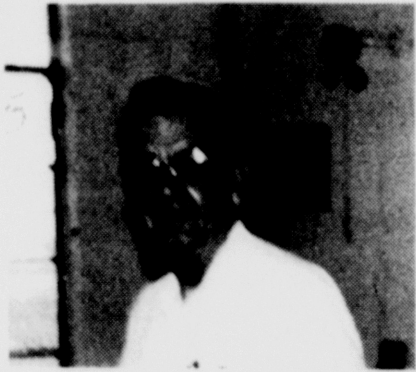

The Brookside settlement had no bearing on Eastover's other operations at Highsplit in Harlan County, Arjay in Bell County and in Wise County, Va.

The settlement was seen as a symbolic victory for the UMW, which has pressed the strike as a well-publicized effort to achieve gains in Eastern Kentucky where there are many non-union mines.

Matuszak Curbed From WFL Action

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

John Matuszak has snuffed out screen pass, counteracted trap plays and smashed through double blocks, but he couldn't come up with anything Wednesday night to stop the wheels of justice.

The Texas authorities may be late, but eventually they'll get their man. Wednesday night, it happened to be the mammoth Matuszak, who made one of the shortest — but most dramatic — jumps in professional football history earlier in the day.

Matuszak, a 6-foot-8, 285-pound defensive giant, found a loophole in his contract with the Houston Oilers and drove through it, winding up in the camp of the Houston Texans of the World Football League where he signed a multi-year contract.

Matuszak, a former Tampa All-American who was the No. 1 NFL draft pick in the 1973 collegiate draft, entered the game early in the first quarter.

"We wanted to serve it (the restraining order) before Matuszak got on the field," Oiler owner Bud Adams said, "but they left the sheriff's office too late to issue it before the game started."

After a defensive series in the second period, Matuszak, escorted by Texans' owner Steve Arnold, walked down the sidelines where he was served the restraining order by sheriff's deputies.

The order sidelined Matuszak for the rest of the game and, according to his lawyer, Gary Koposta, would keep him inactive until a hearing Sept. 5.

Matuszak spent the rest of the game on the bench and watched the Texans beat the New York Stars 14-11, equalling the number of victories he watched the Oilers pick up in 1973.

Elsewhere in the WFL the Memphis Southmen downed the Florida Blazers 26-18, the Southern California Sun trounced the Portland Storm 45-15 and the Philadelphia Bell beat the Detroit Wheels 27-23.

While the legal battle raged on the sidelines, quarterback Mike Taliaferro guided the Texans to one of their most productive performances of the season, reversing a 43-10 loss to New York last week.

Taliaferro tossed two touchdown passes, the first one going to tight end Willie Frazier in the first quarter.

The game-clincher came early in the fourth period when Rick Eber eluded the Stars secondary and caught a 25-yard touchdown pass all alone in the end zone.

Landry Goes After Divisional Crown

DALLAS (AP) — Tom Landry has always said he loves a challenge and he's got it this year, his 14th as the only coach the Dallas Cowboys have known.

He has worked rookies and veterans hard at the Thousand Oaks, Calif., training camp, starting daily with a dawn run over a small mountain dubbed "The Hill." Assistant coach Mike Ditka leads the group and Landry tags along behind to tongue-lash stragglers.

Anyone not putting out gets the gate, like wide receiver Otto Stowe.

There are several reasons Landry is driving himself and his players harder than at any time Cowboy observers can remember.

—Landry has five players on his team who are lame ducks, waiting to join World Football League clubs: Calvin Hill, Rayfield Wright, Jethro Pugh, D.D. Lewis, and quarterback Craig Morton.

—Stowe and running back-receiver Mike Montgomery are gone and must be replaced.

—Landry is proud of his team's record of eight consecutive National Football League playoffs.

—Landry felt the Cowboys had a good enough team to be in the Super Bowl last year but unraveled in the clutch.

"The key thing for us is to reach the performance level we had toward the end of last season," says Landry. "If we can start out that way in September and sustain it, we'll have an excellent chance of reaching the playoffs."

In the backfield will be Hill and veteran fullback Walt Garrison.

The wide receiver is second-year man Drew Pearson, a free agent sensation last year after Stowe broke an ankle. Bob Hayes is expected to hold down the other receiver spot but Golden Richards could change the ranking because of a tremendous preseason.

The offensive line is rated one of the finest in the NFL. Guards Blaine Nye and John Niland, tackles Wright and Ralph Neely and center John Fitzgerald provide Landry with consistency. Tight ends Billy Joe DuPree, Jean Fugett and rookie Ron Howard are solid.

Defensively, the Cowboys have No. 1 draft choice Ed "Too Tall" Jones, an end from Tennessee State, who has sparkled in preseason games with his quickness. Landry hopes to move Jones alongside tackle Bob Lilly, who has recovered from a 1973 injury.

Horst Muhlmann May Play Sunday

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)— Horst Muhlmann, the Cincinnati Bengals crack kicking specialist, may be ready after all for Sunday's confrontation with the rival Cleveland Browns.

A team official said today that Muhlmann's sore leg should be healed to handle kicking chores for the unbeaten Bengals, who will be going for their fifth straight exhibition victory.

Cincinnati Reds Game Time Switched

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— The Cincinnati Reds announced Wednesday that their Sept. 7 game with the Los Angeles Dodgers might not be a sellout because the game was being switched from a night to an afternoon contest to allow national television coverage.

A spokesman said the time change may cause some fans to return or exchange tickets.

Reds Edge Philadelphia, 4-3

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — First place by Sept. 12 is Sparky Anderson's goal for his embattled Cincinnati Reds.

Why Sept. 12? Someone asked Anderson after his Reds had edged the Philadelphia Phillies 4-3 on pinch-hitter Terry Crowley's eighth inning run-scoring double.

"I got a reason," retorted Anderson. "I'm not saying now what it is. If we catch them (Los Angeles Dodgers) I'll tell you at the end."

Although his Reds are playing excellent ball and keeping right on the tail of the leading Dodgers in the two-team fight for the National League West championship, Anderson speaks cautiously.

"They have a big advantage, four games in the loss column," explained the Reds' skipper.

"We got to get a little closer before our head-to-head games," Anderson said. "I hope Pittsburgh can take two out of three from them this weekend."

The Reds will be home entertaining the Montreal Expos while the Dodgers are battling the red hot Pirates, who have surged ahead in the Eastern Division.

"We're going to have to streak," Anderson declared. "But we're going home and Joe Morgan should be back in the lineup Friday."

Morgan, the Reds' All-Star second baseman, has been out four days with injured hands. He hurt one in Montreal over the weekend and the other diving into second against Philadelphia Monday night.

"This has been great, giving Joe four days rest and still being able to win," Anderson noted.

The 17-year-old Crowley, hitting only .239, said he was lucky to hit the ball, let alone get a game-winning double.

"I lost sight of it on the way to the plate," he confided in the noisy Reds' dressing room. "I didn't see it again until it was almost at the plate, about three feet away."

Crowley, acquired by Cincinnati last spring as a pinch hitter, said he didn't even get a full swing at the two-strike pitch thrown by reliever Ron Schueler.

"If it wasn't two strikes I wouldn't even have swung at the pitch," Crowley said. "I took a short, choppy swing, sort of like you do on a hit and run."

Schueler retired the first two Reds in the eighth. Then Darrel Chaney, hitting .188, singled. Crowley ripped his double and the Reds were home free.

Ed Kirkpatrick's two-run double in the 11th inning fired the streaking Pittsburgh Pirates to a 3-1 victory over the San Francisco Giants. The win was the sixth in a row for the East Division leaders.

The Pirates took a 1-0 lead in the third on successive one-out singles by Rennie Stennett, Richie Hebner and Al Oliver, with Oliver extending his hitting streak to 21 games. San Francisco tied it in the bottom of the third when Garry Maddox singled, Gary Thomasson walked, the runners pulled a double steal and Gary Matthews sent Maddox home with a grounder.

In Wednesday night's other National League games, the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated Chicago 7-6, the Houston Astros edged New York 3-2 in 10 innings, the Atlanta Braves beat Montreal 4-2 and the St. Louis Cardinals downed San Diego 5-1.

Dodgers 7, Cubs 6

Bill Madlock's pinch-hit grand slam gave Chicago an eighth-inning tie — but Willie Crawford's sacrifice fly in the bottom of the ninth gave the Dodgers the victory.

Steve Garvey's fifth single of the game started the ninth and Ron Cey was safe at first when pitcher Oscar Zamora fumbled his bunt. Joe Ferguson sacrificed the runners up a base and Von Joshua was walked intentionally to load the bases before Crawford batted for Bill Russell and hit his game-winning fly ball, giving reliever Mike Marshall the victory.

Astros 3, Mets 2

Cliff Johnson's two-out home run in the 10th inning that powered the Astros past New York was Johnson's fifth as a pinch hitter, equalling Joe Cronin's 1943 American League record and putting Johnson within one of the major league mark of six, set by Donnie Frederick of the 1932 Brooklyn Dodgers.

Braves 4, Expos 2

Ralph Garr hit a tie-breaking two-run single in the seventh inning and Ted Simmons followed with a two-run double to beat the Padres and keep St. Louis within 1½ games of the Pirates.

Lou Brock stole two bases to boost his season total to 91 and singled to open the seventh inning before Reggie Smith and Joe Torre walked to load the bases and set up McBride's hit.

Hunter, A's Top Brewers

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer
Catfish Hunter has been a 20-game winner in each of the past three seasons, and Wednesday night the ace righthander of the Oakland A's joined that select circle once again with a 3-1 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers.

Hunter joined Boston's Luis Tiant as the only 20-game winners in the majors on the strength of a pair of home runs by Reggie Jackson.

Jackson's first homer of the night, a 420-foot shot into the right-center-field bullpen leading off the seventh inning against Jim Colborn, 8-11, gave Hunter a 2-1 lead. Jackson then led off the ninth with his 26th of the year, a booming 450-foot blast to right.

Hunter, 20-10, got ninth-inning relief help from Paul Lindblad and Rollie Fingers in posting his sixth victory in his last seven decisions.

The victory boosted the A's lead in the American League West to 5½ game over the second-place Kansas City Royals.

Elsewhere in the American League, Cleveland beat Kansas City 7-1, New York blanked Minnesota 5-0, Detroit edged California 2-1, Texas tripped Baltimore 4-2 and Chicago shut out Boston 3-0.

Indians 7, Royals 1

Gaylord Perry, 17-9, pitched a five-hitter and Charlie Spikes and Rico Carty drove in two runs apiece for the Indians.

Oakland Raiders Field Same Team

OAKLAND (AP) — Uninclined to tamper with success, the Oakland Raiders will field a 1974 team essentially the same as last season's ... just a year older.

Oakland is going after its seventh National Football League division championship in eight years. Whether the Raiders can get it with a minimum change in personnel is likely to depend on how much their opposition has been able to improve.

The Raiders were 9-4-1 and lost in the American Conference playoff final 27-10 to Super Bowl winner Miami. Oakland led the conference in total offense and defense, the only AFC team to out-gain foes by an average of more than 100 yards a game.

Only four players from last year's squad have departed — Jeff Queen, Steve Sweeney, Tom Maxwell and Bob Brown.

Newcomers include two league oldtimers — running back Leroy Kelly, who had 10 seasons with Cleveland, and punt return specialist Ron Smith, acquired from San Diego and in his 10th NFL season.

All this creates a problem for an unusually fine crop of Raider rookies this year, especially offense talent. It's not a new problem. Of the 1973 rookie crop only punter Ray Guy has survived as a regular.

Free agent-rookie quarterback Larry Lawrence, 25, of Iowa, and a trio of 22-year-old rookies — running backs Harold Hart of Texas Southern and Mark van Eeghen of Colgate and tight end Dave Casper, a Notre Dame All-American — have been outstanding in exhibition games.

Lawrence's chances are improved because Ken Stabler, whose 62.7 completion percentage topped AFC passers last season, is jumping to the World Football League next year along with 12-year veteran Daryle Lamonica.

Offensive tackle Bob Brown never showed at camp for his 11th NFL season and is up for trade. Trying to grab that spot is No. 1 draft choice, 268-pound, 6-foot-4 Henry Lawrence of Florida A&M.

The Raider defense, which allowed the fewest points in the club's history in 1973, may get a boost from Bubba Smith, former All-Pro end who was sidelined much of last year with a knee injury. Bubba showed he is regaining speed when, in preseason play, he Pat Dobson, 13-14, scattered seven hits and Thurman Munson homered and drove in three runs as the second-place Yankees pulled within 4½ games of Boston in the AL East.

It was Dobson's second shutout of the season, and the Yankee hurler said he felt he got better as the game went along.

Tigers 2, Angels 1

Home runs by Ed Brinkman and Al Kaline powered the Tigers to victory behind the sixhit pitching of Mickey Lolich, 16-15.

Brinkman's leadoff homer in the eighth tied the game, then Kaline's 10th home run of the season into the upper deck in left field off rookie Frank Tanana, 9-16, untied it.

Rangers 4, Orioles 2

Home runs by Toby Harrah and Jim Fregosi powered Texas over Baltimore.

Harrah's blast, his 18th, tied the game at 2-2 in the second inning. Jeff Burroughs doubled home the tie-breaking run in the fifth, then Fregosi led off the sixth with his 12th homer of the season.

The run batted in boosted Burroughs' season total to 106, tops in the majors.

White Sox 3, Red Sox 0

Bart Johnson blanked Boston on four singles, Bill Sharp homered in the fourth inning and Bucky Dent drove in a pair of runs with a bases-loaded double in the eighth.

blocked one conversion kick by Philadelphia's Tom Dempsey and deflected another.

Ben Davidson, relegated to the taxi squad last year by leg trouble, is making a strong bid to win back a defensive end job.

And, yes, George Blanda who will be 47 Sept. 17 and is in his 25th pro season, is once more the club's placekicker.

Malone Signs With Stars; Like Circus

WASHINGTON (AP) — Moses Malone has finally signed a contract to play for the Utah Stars of the American Basketball Association, so sources say, ending a threeering circus that began in Petersburg, Va., this spring, about the time the superstar was about to graduate from high school.

Malone, 19, who lingered on the threshold of indecision for several days before signing a grant-in-aid to attend the University of Maryland, again kept reporters by the hundreds guessing while he considered whether to become the first youth ever to bypass college, going straight from schoolboy basketball to the pros.

Malone, according to an official of the University of Maryland who preferred to remain anonymous, late Wednesday affixed his signature to a lucrative contract offered by the ABA club.

The timing and setting of the signing was every bit as dramatic as the months of maneuvering by hundred of college coaches who had coveted the services of the lean, 6-foot-11, athlete.

SMILE & HAVE A GOOD DAY

U.S. Amateur 4th Round Set Today

RIDGEWOOD, N.J. (AP) — Fifty-one-year-old Bill Campbell calls it "Black Thursday."

But young players like NCAA champ Curtis Strange, Florida Amateur titlist Doug Pate and Porter Cup winner George Burns consider it just another day.

Ed Tutwiler, 55, who called it "the Endurance Test," won't be around for today's double round action at the 74th U.S. Amateur Golf Championship — he said goodbye on Wednesday. So did veterans Dick Siderowf and Vinnie Giles.

Today the boys at the Ridgewood Country Club started the real test of stamina and nerves.

Since Monday, the action has consisted of one match-play round per day. But fourthround play was to be held this morning and the fifth round was to begin after a short lunch break.

On Friday, double rounds will be held again on the 6,754-yard, par-71 course. The two finalists will meet in a 36-hole match play contest on Saturday.

It's been hot and humid all week at the North Jersey tournament site. Many of the players feel the weather will be a major factor in the eventual outcome. But no one feels the weather can hurt as much as poor driving and putting.

Tutwiler lost 1 up to Pate, a 20-year-old University of Alabama student from Pensacola, Fla.

The 19-year-old Strange, a Wake Forest sophomore from Virginia Beach, won the Western, the Virginia State Amateur — both match-play events — and hasn't lost a match-play encounter this year.

Burns doesn't draw any conclusions from the longer day. "It's the same course and conditions for everyone," said the husky 25-year-old Port Washington, N.Y., beverage salesman.

Perry, Tribe Stop Royals In 7-1 Win

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Balding Gaylord Perry sat in the dressing room doing what he does so often: modestly accepting congratulations on a masterfully pitched baseball game.

"Thank you, thank you, very much," said the man whose 2.36 earned run average is the best in the American League.

Perry, 17-9, had just held the Kansas City Royals to five hits and one run while his teammates had punished Royals pitching for 11 hits and seven runs.

"This sure beats getting shut out," he said, "like the last two times. It was really nice to get those runs. I know how the other guys feel."

Charlie Spikes and Rico Carty drove in two runs apiece for the Indians although in retrospect those runs weren't needed. Royals starter Al Fitzmorris, 10-4, walked in a run in the first and his reliever, Marty Pattin, walked in another in the second.

After walking Kansas City's leadoff batter, Vada Pinson, Perry retired 10 straight until Amos Otis doubled in the fourth and scored on a single by John Mayberry.

"I was mixing up my pitches pretty good tonight," Perry said, "fastballs, forkballs, sliders."

"You should have had a shutout," remarked a teammate.

Perry just shrugged his shoulders and smiled.

Boilermakers Are Improved

WEST LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)— Alex Agase says his second group of Purdue Boilermakers has made adjustments that should make the Black and Gold "an improved football team in 1974."

Agase, a former All-America at both Purdue and Illinois and known to be a "player's coach," said, "One of our biggest problems a year ago was adjustment. The first year of anything is a period of adjustment, but we know our players now."

"More importantly, they know us, our philosophies, and what we expect from them," he added.

Not that the Boilermakers were that bad a year ago. They tied for fourth in the Big Ten race with a 4-4 record and finished 5-6 overall.

Gone from that team is quarterback Bo Bobrowski, the squad's most valuable player. But junior Craig Nagel and senior Mike Terrizzi are expected to take up the slack.

And the offense, particularly the air game, could be extremely potent if whoever is playing quarterback can get the ball to wide receiver Larry Burton and tight end Barry Santini, two of the best pass catchers in the Big Ten.

Of Burton, a former Olympic sprinter, Agase said, "As far as I'm concerned, Larry Burton is the premier receiver in the Midwest. There's no one who can match his speed and certainly he proved he can catch the football last season."

Graduation left Purdue with a major rebuilding job on defense and "capable but untested" people on offense, according to Agase.

He said, "We have experience on defense at the interior positions but must develop some depth. We lost our linebackers, ends and half the secondary."

Agase added, "On defense, we'll be very strong up the middle with returning tackles Ken Novak and Stan Parker, middle guard Mark Gorgal and linebackers Randy Clark and Cedric Evans, who are big and fast but lack experience."

Bengals Fullback Eyes Ice Treatment

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Cincinnati Bengal fullback Doug Dressler, trying a comeback after a knee operation, says he found an off-season college class so fascinating he's making a scientific study that could revolutionize athletic training methods.

The 25-year-old Californian is preparing a masters thesis on the effects of ice packs applied to the abdomen after rigorous exercise.

He's confident research will prove an athlete can recover quicker than by the long-practiced method of applying cold towels and ice to the neck.

NCAA three-meter diving champion Rick Mcalister of Madera, Calif., has won 78 straight victories in dual meet competition for the Air Force Academy swimming team.

Rick Oliver and Ron Hardy bear promise, though limited in experience at linebacker. Strong safety Jim Wood and cornerback Fred Cooper anchor the backfield.

"Defense has always been played at Purdue with toughness and as a team. Our 1974 defense will be a meld of young and old and they'll play team defense," Agase said.

One item that is sure to bring a smile to Agase's face is the presence on offense of his "Black and Gold Twins," Mike Northington and Scott Dierking.

The two sophomores will share first team duties at the tailback position, and Agase said, "What we have is a 12-man offense. Those two like their nickname."

"Northington is black and Dierking is very blond. They are each other's cheerleader and help each other out. They are two super football players."

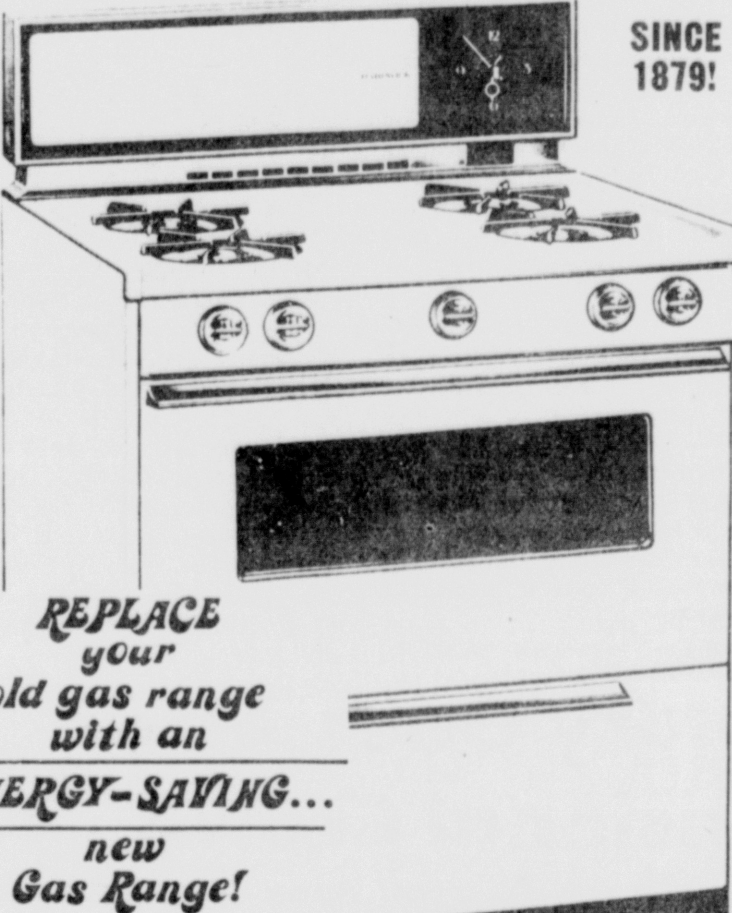

The man who'll anchor the offensive backfield is fullback Pete Gross, who Agase called "Mr. Dependable." He led Purdue in rushing last season.

Agase finished his review of his team's assets and debits and said, "The key is that we have to put it all together fast and stay away from injuries to be good all year long."

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR FRIDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Some caution needed. Do not be anxious but do evaluate all things carefully—new propositions, suggestions, unusual ideas. Some may have worth. Others...?

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Mixed influences. Confusion could reign if you are not on guard. Do not let slight misunderstandings blow into a storm. Use your wits.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Don't take on too many extra responsibilities. You could bog down, even though your shoulders are strong and your motives admirable. Know when to call a halt.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): A good day for making important decisions, but weigh them well! Move forward only after deliberate and sufficient forethought.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Excitement or anxiety could be detrimental to top achievement. Be contained. Direct energies constructively. Familiarize yourself with new trends.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Stellar aspects fairly favorable, but you may have to work a little harder for benefits. Also, two admonitions: Avoid the bizarre and DO be careful if dealing with strangers.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): A piece of good news could be the forerunner of new advantages in the future. If traveling, for either business or pleasure, day should be a great success.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Mars, exceptionally propitious, makes this a fine day for conducting business negotiations, concluding financial transactions.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Good planetary influences encourage a power-driven, gradually speeded-up schedule. Gains indicated through unusual ideas and magnanimous gestures toward associates.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Check tendencies toward recklessness and irresponsibility. Listen well, take in others' ideas, then your own will come through more clearly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Shun needless controversy, but be firm in maintaining principles, nevertheless. Be careful not to step out of line or go to extremes in any activity.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): You have more at work for you than you may realize. Use skills smartly, carefully. Keep abreast of trends, unexpectedly changing situations.

YOU BORN TODAY are a most determined and resolute individual. In any undertaking, you are methodical and painstaking—a boon to the employer who dotes on dependability in those under his supervision. You make a fine employer yourself, incidentally, since employees always know where they stand with you. Your directives are always sound and clear-cut. You may be too exacting at times, however, and should try to be more tolerant with "lesser lights." You have been endowed with a wealth of talent and many fields are open to you when choosing a life work. Most notable success can be achieved, however, in teaching, writing, science, acting and painting. Politics and statesmanship are also good career choices. Birthdate of: David Hartly, philosopher.

Here's To Wildlife

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Fish and Wildlife Service is restructuring its law enforcement division, says Director Lynn A. Greenwalt, so that it can deal more effectively with wildlife law violations.

The service's six regions will be divided into 13 districts, each managed by a special agent who will have a modest force to cover the district's investigative and law enforcement responsibilities. These responsibilities have been increased by Congress in recent years.

Recipes Popular

LONDON (AP) — The British Post Office helped to put more than three million meals on Britain's tables during the year ended March 31, the Post Office reported.

That was the number of calls received by the telephone dial-a-dish service in the year.

The daily recipes from the British Farm Produce Council are all tested in ordinary kitchens and are simple to make.

Now, with an eye on inflation, the service features economy recipes which provide maincourse dishes for four at no more than $1.80 total. Some cost even less.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — The latest news on live TV coverage of Evel Knievel's rocket-powered leap over Idaho's Snake River Canyon is downright grim today. The networks don't plan any live coverage.

The Idaho Land Board held an auction Wednesday for rights to televise the great leap from state property on the north side of the canyon, where Knievel intends to land. It received no bids.

CBS Sports withdrew a tentative offer of $50,000 it had made on Tuesday, lest Top Rank, Inc., promoter of the leap, carry out its threat to cancel the whole thing if live TV coverage is allowed.

Top-Rank, a New York-based firm which plans to show the jump live on closed-circuit theater television, says it has paid Knievel $6 million to cover the leap and wants to protect its investment.

Knievel has leased private land on the south side of the canyon as his take-off point, but Top Rank isn't allowing live TV coverage from there. The jump is scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 8.

Robert Wussler, head of CBS Sports, said discussions were held with Top Rank officials until late Tuesday night and early Wednesday and they reiterated their threat to cancel if CBS stayed in.

He said the company's executives "were really getting a lot of heat from theater owners across the country and they had a very tender situation on their hands."

He said he finally decided Wednesday morning to pull out of the state bidding "because it got to be a larger issue than it ever should have become. But we've had an interesting time in the last 48 hours."

An NBC spokesman said his network turned down a Top Rank offer which, for $25,000, would have let NBC film the leap from the takeoff point, provided it didn't air the film until 11 p.m. that night.

Wussler said no similar offer was made to CBS Sports.

Ironically, ABC, which has given Knievel considerable national publicity, is airing a special next Thursday night about his leap, and is handling the closed-circuit TV production for Top Rank, says it still is negotiating with the company for delayed-showing television rights.

Although Top Rank threatens massive lawsuits against anyone seeking to make what it calls "illegal broadcasts" of the event, there is nothing to stop TV crews from covering it with long lenses from the canyon's north side.

Aerial shots? No big problem there, even though the Federal Aviation Administration has put tight restrictions on the airspace.

Economic Indicators Show Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's measure of future trends in the economy rebounded in July on the strength of an improved job picture and labor costs, the Commerce Department reported today.

The department said its index of leading indicators pushed up by 1.8 per cent over June, when the index recorded its only drop so far this year, a six-tenths of 1 per cent decline.

The Commerce Department said the strongest upward pressure came from the cost of labor involved in production. The price-labor cost ratio improved by 3 per cent in July, meaning $10 worth of labor produced $11.70 worth of goods, compared to $11.36 in June.

New claims for unemployment benefits shrunk to 282,000 in July, the lowest level since November.

Other improvements were reflected in a longer average work week, increased orders for durable goods, increased spending on factories and equipment and higher prices for industrial materials.

Exerting a downward influence on the index were declining stock prices and a dip in the number of building permits issued.

The over-all index is designed to foreshadow future trends in the economy, but economists debate whether it is accurate. The index has moved steadily upward since 1973, although it was relatively stationary late in the year just prior to two consecutive declines in the nation's total output of goods and services.

Liz Taylor Given Role In Russia

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Actress Elizabeth Taylor will star in a multimillion dollar musical based on a fairy tale in the first joint Soviet-American film, an official of Tower International said Tuesday.

The film will be "The Bluebird," from the Maurice Maeterlinck classic, said Clara Reece, a senior vice president.

She said a deal has been completed on the production and the two countries would split the costs. She declined to estimate the total cost.

The Soviets are to supply the location and studios. Most of the actors will be American, she said.

The production is scheduled to be released late in 1975.

"The highest government level" in the U.S.S.R. is involved in the project, she said. "The Russians are anxious to make a good job."

She said the Soviets can be expected to carry out the terms of the contract to the letter. She said she has to keep at the Americans who are accustomed to dealing much more casually.

In the story, a witch visits two children who are sleeping. She tells them that her daughter is ill and that she only can be cured if the children find the bluebird. The story is about their search.

Miss Taylor is to play two roles, Mrs. Reece said. She will portray the fairy and the light.

Shriners Plan Annual Ladies' Night Party

Pickaway Shrine Club will entertain the Illustrious Potentate of Aladdin Temple and members of the Temple's official family at a Ladies Night Party September 9, at The American Legion Hall Adkins, Post No. 134 Route 23 South.

Robert G. Smith, M.D., president, said the party is the outstanding social event of the Club year. He said about 150 people will attend.

SHRINERS—Robert G. Smith (left), president of Pickaway Shrine Club, and Charles A. Dinwiddie (right), Illustrious Potentate of Aladdin Temple, will be among those attending Pickaway's Ladies Night Party Sept. 9.

Charles A. Dinwiddie, the 1974 Illustrious Potentate of Columbus-based Aladdin Temple and leader of more than 14,300 Nobles of the Mystic Shrine in central-southeastern Ohio, and other Temple representatives will be the honored guests at the party.

Aladdin is one of 172 Temples in the Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. It has 40 Shrine clubs and 14 special units in its jurisdiction, and supports the internationally acclaimed 19 crippled children's hospitals and three burns institutes.

Crippled and badly burned children are accepted regardless of race, color or creed if their parents cannot afford hospital treatment. The entire cost of treating every young patient is borne by the Shrine as part of what has been termed "The World's Greatest Philanthropy."

Aladdin Temple and its Shrine clubs send seriously disabled youngsters to the Hospital for Crippled Children at Lexington, Ky. and the badly burned children to the Burns Institute at Cincinnati.

President Smith said Dinwiddie's Divan is composed of the following elected officers: Donald R. Waters, Chief Rabban; Ralph C. Linscott, Assistant Rabban; Charles A. Weber, High Priest and Prophet; Bruce Jenkins, Oriental Guide, and James J. Harbage, Treasurer; and Richard E. Goudy, Past Potentate and Recorder. Appointed members of the 1974 Divan are Robert E. Hill First Ceremonial Master; Robert O. Snyder, Second Ceremonial Master; Robert T. Southwick, Marshal; Ralph B. Hornberger, Jr., Captain of the Guard; Thurman W. Garrett, Outer Guard and Edwin A. Naus, Chaplain.

Officers of the Pickaway Shrine Club in addition to Noble Smith are: Asa Elsea, first vice-president; Elmer Howard, secretary-treasurer; Dewey Downs, membership chairman; and Durward D. Dowden, publicity chairman.

Accident Injures County Man

Paul E. Walters, 33, Route 2, was referred to a doctor, by Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Billy Huffman, for shoulder and head injuries received in a single-car accident, 12:20 p.m. Wednesday.

Walters was driving north on 104 when he failed to negotiate a curve. Going off the left side of the road, the vehicle came to rest after striking a fence.

Hospital Addition Runs 21 Days Behind Schedule

A report from the general contractor to the Berger Hospital Board of Governors Wednesday night showed the building project to be a full 21 days behind schedule. Board members were reassured by the contractor's report that the project would still be completed on the original schedule.

Steward Construction Company, who holds the general contract, has promised to have the ancillary addition completed by next June and hopes to be able to make up the lost time.

Authorization was granted by the board for the payment of bills totaling $2,890 toward the building program. Board members agreed to hold another bill in the amount of $1,297 for further review and approval of the board's legal counsel.

The financial report prepared by Harry Clifton, chairman of the finance committee, showed occupancy for the month of July to be 71 per cent over all. That figure was identical to the per cent of occupancy for July of last year. Thirty-seven babies were delivered during the month and 101 surgeries performed.

A new record was set in the emergency room. The emergency room staff attended 1,168 persons during the month which surpassed the previous record set last July of 1,132.

Unanimous approval was given by the board to offer free flu vaccine to all the employees of the hospital. The program will be set up for all those wishing to take advantage of the opportunity.

Hospital Administrator John Reid advised the board that no word has been received from the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals as to the approval of Berger for accreditation for the coming year.

Reid also reported that 18 students will have completed an aide and orderly program at the end of this month and will begin work as full and part-time employees of the hospital as of Sept. 9. The course is being taught by Elaine Bowman and Jerry Brown.

Three Columbus physicians were approved for courtesy staff privileges. Dr. Joel Rubin was approved for emergency room privileges and Dr. Charles Deaton Jr. and Dr. S. K. Cho for radiology privileges.

An amendment to the board's bylaws was approved as requested by the medical staff. The amendment will require physicians to complete a death summary within 48 hours following the death of a hospital patient.

Discussions were held on the staffing of the hospital and Reid pointed out to the board that although he was always seeking additional registered nurses, the hospital at present was fully staffed. The current employment stands at 21.6 full-time registered nurses, 22 licensed practical nurses and 27 nurses' aides.

Barbara McCain Honored By Friends, Family

Miss Barbara McCain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kester L. McCain, Route 4, Tarlton Road, left today for Claxton, Ga., where she will be serving as the Director of Youth at the First United Methodist Church.

Under the leadership of the Rev. John C. Carroll, Miss McCain will coordinate the youth activities with other areas of the church program.

She received her bachelor of arts degree, in June, from Asbury College with a major in Christian Education. She also attended Capital University.

Church friends and neighbors honored Miss McCain, Tuesday, at her home.

The Rev. and Mrs. Richard Fry, from the Campus Church, were among those attending.

Foreman Cleared In Death

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Denzil Carpenter, a North American Coal Corp. mine foreman, will not have his certificate of competency revoked according to Norman Gatti, chief of the Ohio Division of Mines.

Carpenter was cited by the division in August, 1973, after a miner under his supervision was killed in a mining accident. He was accused of failing to comply with Ohio mining laws.

Gatti said Wednesday that a hearing examiner presented evidence that Carpenter was not responsible for the accident that killed Thomas Fisher, a young West Virginia miner.

"Carpenter had no authority to pick and choose or otherwise assign the members of his section crew because that rested solely with management," Gatti said.

United Mine Workers called a weeklong strike late last month complaining that the state had failed to take action in the year-old case.

Hospital Resumes Normal Operations

DOVER, Ohio (AP)—Union Hospital here began returning to normal operations today after striking nurses ratified a new contract, ending a sevenweek strike.

The nurses approved the pact Wednesday after negotiators, meeting with a federal mediator, reached agreement on disputed issues, which included on-call pay for surgical nurses, take-charge pay for emergency room nurses and vacations.

The hospital laid off 90 hourly employees during the walkout, but said it maintained essential services.
